Carrier Pilots Down Two MIGs Near Hanoi

Get Revenge For Old Air Force Jet Losses

SAIGON (UPI)—Two U.S. Navy supersonic jets shot down two Communist MIGs over North Viet Nam today with deadly accurate guided missiles.

It was the third dogfight of the air war against North Viet Nam and produced the first confirmed kills for American aviators. One of the MIG pilots was seen parachuting but the other apparently went down with his plane.

A U.S. military spokesman said the two F4B Phantom jets intercepted a flight of four MIG-17's at 10:26 a.m. heading toward other Navy planes on a bombing raid against the Yen Phu army barracks 115 miles south of Hanoi.

The American airmen fired heat - seeking Sidewinder and radar-directed Sparrow missiles at the interceptors, hitting the second and third planes in the loose trail formation.

The first MIG caught fire and disintegrated in the air. The second was hit in a head-on pass and exploded.

The Phantom pilots observed one open parachute but no sign of the other Communist aviator. The two other MIGs escaped.

The spokesman said the MIGs bore yellow stripe markings outlined in Red. The craft were presumed to be North Vietnamese.

Corte Madera Creek Fund Is Approved

The House Appropriations Committee today approved an $800,000 outlay for the Army Corps of Engineers to start work on the Corte Madera Creek flood control project during the fiscal year which starts July 1.

The money was a small part of nearly 1.6 billion dollars approved by the committee for the corps and the Bureau of Reclamation to plan and build water projects.

Listed under construction projects, the allotment indicates that the Corps of Engineers may plan to respond soon to a January request by the Marin County Board of Supervisors request that work on the lower part of the project begin quickly.

Part of this year's public works appropriation bill, the allotment now will go to the House floor for approval.

Total cost of the Corte Madera Creek project has been estimated at 6.8 million dollars. Congressional committees last year voted $100,000 for planning.

Supervisors in January asked that work begin on flood control work in the downstream portions passing through Kentfield, Larkspur and Corte Madera, since four-fifths of the $275,000 annual damage along the eight-

School Aides Hostile Over Probe On Dope

By ROSS DAVIS

A meeting handicapped by confused intentions between Marin County Grand Jury and a somewhat hostile camp of school officials yesterday limped through a 90-minute attempt to deal with the county's problems of marijuana among the student-aged population.

Although jury foreman George R. Scott announced at the onset that the purpose was only to get educators' notions on how to best combat use of the weed by youngsters, at least two school officials felt the grand jury's request for their appearance was an indictment of schools in marijuana-smoking.

Chester G. Carlisle, superintendent of Tamalpais Union High School District, said questioning about educating teenagers of marijuana dangers "implies that the full responsibility lies with the schools and that we have done nothing about the problem before this."

He declared the problem is that of the community, home, and law enforcement agencies, too.

Bert C. Corona, superintendent of San Rafael City Schools, said requests for school officials to expound on student marijuana use "presumed upon" the attending educators.

"It is a community responsibility as well," he said. I do not feel this (meeting with the grand jury) is the right type of procedure.

"We are here for information. We have no concrete evidence to present. We are not invited here on this basis. If that's what you want, I think you'll have

Western Weekend Queen Is Crowned

By THERON A. NEWELL

Nancy, 18, is a daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Harry F. Noble Jr. of 237 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base. She graduates tomorrow from San Rafael High School and will attend College of Marin in September.

Jeannie Bergala, last year's queen, placed the crown on the head of the new queen.

Nancy, with 36-25-37 bust, waist and hips, is five feet six and one-half inches tall and weighs 129 pounds.

Vicky Row, 17, of 1101 Cambridge Street, Novato, was first runner-up, and Janet Thomas, 16, of 1530 Buchanan Street, Novato, second runner-up. They will be princesses with Queen Nancy during the celebration.

A packed house watched while a panel of five judges, not announced until last night, selected the girls on the basis of 50 per cent on beauty, 25 per cent on personality and 25 per cent on poise, from a field of 11 candidates.

The queen and her court will be featured in the Western Weekend parade on Saturday at 11 a.m. and reign over other events of the celebration which will be held at Rancho Diablo Avenue and Novato Boulevard, the Community House and the Horsemen's Arena on Bugeia Lane, until Sunday night.

In the Western Weekend beard growing contest, there was a tie for the best van dyke beard between Eugene Chantler and Edward Larsen. Frank Antonio, a repeat winner, won for the best "Abe Lincoln" beard. Fred Schwab won with his mutton chop whiskers and Glenn Jackson had the longest beard. George Jeffords had the "best of the show" beard and Bruce Askim won in the novelty class.

The Novato Community Club's melodrama, "Virtue Reigns Triumphant," or "Horace Comes Home From the Laundry," kept the crowd entertained during judging of the queen candidates.

Events today include a square dance exhibition to be held at 8 p.m. at the Wild Horse Corral, the Carnival and booths until midnight, and the "The Cloudbusters," high pole dare devil act, all to be presented at Rancho Diablo.

Australian Leads U.S. Golf Open

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Kel Nagle, 44-year-old former British Open champion from Australia, tamed the vast, 7,191-yard Bellerive Country Club course with a two-under-par 68 today and took the early first round lead in the U.S. Open Golf Tournament.

He was two strokes ahead of Rex Baxter, a former NCAA champion from the University of Houston, who had a par 70.

Most of the rest of the touring pros had some difficulty with the par 35-35—70 layout, longest ever for an Open course.

Billy Casper, representing Peacock Gap Country Club of San Rafael and Juliuh Boros, both former Open champions, had 73 and 72, respectively.

Arnold Palmer, nosed out by Nagle for the 1960 British Open crown at St. Andrews, was five over par after 12 holes.

Nagle got hot on the back nine when he birdied the 13th, 14th and 16th holes and missed a 3½-foot putt on the 15th that would have given him four in a row.

He struggled for his five on the 606-yard par 5 17th, blasting out of a trap to within four feet and bogied the 18th after hitting his second into a trap.

Remapping Amendments Are Rejected

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate today refused to accept the Assembly's amendments to its reapportionment bill, plunging the 1965 session into a final hours stalemate over redistricting the upper house.

The 31-7 vote for nonconcurrence sent the measure to a two-house conference committee, confronted with the complex task of agreeing on a plan in the session's final 48 hours.

There was no debate on the motion by Sen. Stephen Teale, D-West Point, to reject the Assembly amendments — which had stirred anger in the Senate because of the way lower house Democratic leaders revised the district lines for the 12 senators allocated to Los Angeles County.

But the vote was held off for more than an hour while the Senate went behind closed doors for the second time in two days to discuss the issue.

If the conferees are able to settle their differences and agree on a bill, the historic measure would shift control of the rural - dominated Senate from sparsely population Northern California.

Three Marin Youths Arrested In South

Three 18-year-old Marin County boys who are skipping their high school graduation ceremonies for civil rights work in the South were arrested yesterday in Jackson, Miss., for parading without a permit.

They are David Durbin, son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Durbin of 15 Bridge Road, Larkspur; Peter Risley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Risley of 151 Stadium Avenue, Mill Valley and Robert Coffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coffman of 58 San Benito Way, Novato.

The three received permission to leave school before commencement. David is graduating from Redwood High School, which holds its graduation tonight. Risley and Coffman are graduating from Tamalpais High, where commencement will be held Sunday.

The youths left Marin Monday with Robert Coppock, Independent-Journal reporter who plans to spend three months in civil rights work in the South. Word of their arrest yesterday came in a telephone call from Coppock to the Risleys.

Dr. Durbin said the boys, all active in Marin Youth for Social Action, planned to spend two months helping in voter registration for the Mississippi Free-

Another Arrest For Marijuana

Continued investigation by Mill Valley police following the marijuana roundup started in southern Marin June 4 resulted in arrest early today of Harry Rodney Krieger, 20, of 148 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley.

Police Chief Dan Terzich said he and Patrolman James R. Wiemeyer, special officer Robert Sisk searched Krieger's bedroom at 8 p.m. yesterday and found a package of marajuana. Permission for the search was given by Kieger's father, Harry.

Hadden Roth, attorney for young Krieger, surrendered the suspect to police at 1 a.m. today and police booked him in county jail on a charge of possesion of marajuana.

HATCHED IN CLASSROOM—Three weeks of anxious waiting by students in Mrs. Judy Dickson's first grade class at Neil Cummins School in Corte Madera ended this week when three of eight quail eggs hatched. The eggs were found by contractor Ray Ahlers of 15 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, at a construction site in Corte Madera, and hatched in an incubator in the classroom. Velma Sanders, 6, one of Mrs. Dickson's pupils, holds the two baby quail that survived. (Independent-Journal photo)

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed today a compromise bill to repeal most federal excise taxes and lead the way for price cuts on a variety of goods from automobiles to lipsticks.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

House Passes Cabinet Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No speedy Senate action appears likely on a House-passed bill to set up a new cabinet-level department of housing and urban development.

Voting along party lines, the House approved the measure yesterday 217 to 184. Republicans opposed the proposal by the Johnson administration but most Democrats supported it.

Senate hearings have not been scheduled, and indications are that no effort would be made to rush the bill to passage ahead of such measures as health care and other legislation.

Knight Says He Has Chance

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Former Gov. Goodwin Knight says he and Sen. Thomas Kuchel are Republicans who can be elected governor in 1966.

The 68-year-old Knight said yesterday in San Francisco that a Republican winner must be a medorate who can get "15 to 20 per cent of the vote of organized labor and who appeals to the state's minority groups—the Latin-Americans, the Negroes and the Jewish population."

Knight

Knight listed Ronald Reagan as a possible candidate.

"Although he has never been a candidate for public office, he is a brilliant speaker and a talented actor, as we all know," Knight said of Reagan.

Knight also said Republicans would be making a mistake in underestimating Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Georgia Elects Negroes, GOP

ATLANTA (UPI) — Georgia voters yesterday elected 17 Republicans and sent the most Negroes to the legislature in this century in a special House reapportionment election.

Eight Negroes won seats in the House and became the first of their race to be elected to the lower chamber since 1907 and the most since 33 served in the 1868 Reconstruction session. Three of those elected had been active in civil rights movements.

The results leave Georgia with 10 Negroes in the legislature—eight in the House and two in the Senate.

Until yesterday, the GOP held only seven seats in the lower house.

Judy Now Has Money Woes

LAS VEGAS (AP)—A few hours after singer Judy Garland opened a two-week engagement at the Thunderbird Hotel, sheriff's deputies announced plans to recover $4,000 from her salary.

Miss Garland

They said a writ for that amount had been granted to the Las Vegas law firm of Morse and Graves.

Attorney William Morse said yesterday he represented the singer in 1962 during her consideration of a Nevada divorce from producer Sid Luft. The couple was divorced later in California.

Morse claims Miss Garland paid him $3,000 by check, then stopped payment on the check. A district court judgment awarded the law firm $3,000, plan an additional $1,000 in attorney fees.

Ex-Publisher Dies

RYE, N.Y. (AP) — William G. Chandler, 82, former general business manager of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, died yesterday after a long illness. Chandler, associated with the Scripps-Howard newspapers since 1899, was president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association from 1945 to 1947.

NEW YORK (AP) — Sydney Chaplin, co-star of the Broadway hit, "Funny Girl," is leaving the cast after Saturday night's performance. Chaplin said yesterday he resigned as a result of differences with Ray Stark, producer of the musical. He declined to elaborate. The musical features Barbra Streisand.

Epidemic Pinpointed

New Shooting In Dominican City's Streets

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Heavy firing echoed last night through the streets of embattled city, where 70 persons were killed and 200 wounded Tuesday in a clash between U.S. troops and Dominican rebels.

Two Americans were killed and 29 were wounded in Tuesday's fighting.

No details of the new fighting could be obtained immediately. Rebel gunfire wounded three Brazilian soldiers of the inter-American peace force yesterday, but no casualties had been reported in last night's clash.

ADVANCE RUMORED

Reports that the U.S. paratroopers who wrested 40 square blocks of the city from the rebels Tuesday were advancing farther into rebel-held territory could not be confirmed.

Some U.S. soldiers were seen yesterday at points beyond the main American line, but it was not certain whether they were spearheading a new advance or merely setting up outposts to protect the territory taken Tuesday.

QUIET, THEN SHOTS

Santo Domingo was quiet during the morning and early afternoon yesterday, but scattered firing was heard at about 3:30 p.m. From 4 to 8 p.m., firing was virtually continuous but it was not certain who was doing the shooting.

Inter - American mediators conferred yesterday with rebel Col. Francisco Caamano Deno without announced result.

The three - man team sent here by the Organization of American States — Ellsworth Bunker of the United States, Ilmar Penna Marinho of Brazil and Ramon de Clairmont Duenas of El Salvador — were to talk with Caamano again today.

Civil Rights Jailings In North, South

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Police made more mass arrests of civil rights demonstrators at Jackson, Miss., and Milwaukee, Wis., yesterday but 200 protesters marched without incident at Chicago.

Officers picked up 51 demonstrators at Jackson in a fourth attempt to march on the Mississippi Capitol to protest a special session of the legislature to change the state's voting laws.

The arrests brought to 726 the number jailed at Jackson for parading without a permit. Negroes claim the legislature was illegally elected because of alleged voter discrimination against Negroes.

Twenty civil rights demonstrators were arrested at Milwaukee when they formed a human chain and blocked the path of a school bus. Sixty persons have been arrested during a school integration campaign in Milwaukee.

Demonstrators staged their fourth march in six days at Chicago in protest against the rehiring of controversial school Supt. Benjamin C. Willis, accused by civil rights groups of promoting segregation through his neighborhood schools policy.

The marchers, however, stayed on the sidewalks and did not sit down in the street, a traffic-blocking action that has brought many of the 530 arrests during the Chicago campaign.

At Shaw, Miss., police arrested 29 Negro youths in connection with the $5,000 vandalism of a Negro junior high school. Officers said the youths signed a statement that the destruction had been suggested by at least three civil rights workers, one of whom "told us that we didn't have to use the Negro school and that we could go to the white school."

'DON'T TAKE FREDDY TOO' — Marine Pfc. Fred Gamble stands rigidly at attention before his parents in Golden Gate National Cemetery yesterday, holding the flag from the casket of his brother Harry, also a Marine. Harry was killed by his own side's artillery in South Viet Nam June 7. (AP Wirephoto)

Youth Kill By Own Side In Viet Combat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The funeral of Marine Pfc. Harry P. Gamble, accidentally killed by his own side in South Viet Nam, began with the tolling of the bells at San Francisco's 127 Catholic churches.

Then the procession went to Golden Gate National Cemetery and Harry Gamble's parents and his 10 brothers and sisters said goodbye to him for the last time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gamble first heard of their son's death with a visit from two Marine officers. An official telegram followed. It said Harry was killed outright June 7 by an artillery shell from his own side. Harry was 23 years old.

Yesterday, in the cemetery at nearby San Bruno, a funeral detail fired a three-shot volley into a clear sky. A priest performed his grave-side duties. A Marine sounded taps.

An American flag was lifted from the casket, folded in the military manner and given to Harry's younger brother Fred, who followed him into the Marines and returned from Okinawa for the funeral.

Fred, in his dress blues, stood before his parents. He was to give them the flag. Martin Gamble turned away and wept. Mrs. Gamble sobbed, "Please don't take Freddy. . .don't take Freddy too."

Someone took the folded flag from Fred. Mrs. Gamble was led away. With Fred at his arm, Martin Gamble approach the casket. He touched it. Then he saluted.

The brothers and sisters placed flowers by the casket. Then went home.

Right To Work Legislation Suffers Attack Of Sniffles

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Organized labor today was suffering the headache and discomforts of the common cold.

The sinuses involved belonged to Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D - N. Y., but there was no question that labor and its allies in the House were feeling the pain.

A scheduled meeting yesterday at which labor supporters hoped to speed action on legislation that would nullify "right-to-work" laws was called off when Powell's office announced he had suffered a cold or sinus attack.

The illness appeared to have come on suddenly. At a hearing earlier before the House Rules Committee, Powell held forth in his best pulpit tones for half an hour and gave no indication he was not feeling well.

Last week Powell, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, announced he would block progress of the bill approved by his committee to repeal section 14-B of the Taft - Hartley law. This provision permits states to ban the union shop.

Powell's plan was to hold up the repeal bill — organized labor's No. 1 congressional goal — until the House approved an amendment to give Negroes more protection against racial discrimination by labor unions. The amendment would give the new Equal Employment Opportunities Commission stronger enforcement powers.

New Moscow Rumors Rife Hinting At Kremlin Shuffle

MOSCOW (UPI) — Moscow's diplomatic colony is speculating again whether the Kremlin is planning a shift of its top rulers, including party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Anastas I. Mikoyan.

There is no reliable evidence to support persistent rumors from abroad that a reshuffle of the Soviet leadership is imminent, but the guessing game nevertheless revolves around the following possible decisions.

1. Mikoyan will retire sometime this year and his place as chief of state will be taken by former President Brezhnev. But Mikoyan will remain a member of the Communist party's all-powerful Presidium.

2. Alexander Shelepin, vice premier and one of the Central Committee's 10 secretaries, is the most likely candidate to succeed Brezhnev as party chief.

3. Kosygin will remain chairman of the Council of Ministers (premier).

There is no incontestable evidence to support the speculation of impending changes in the upper Kremlin hierarchy.

The collective leadership which succeeded fallen Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev appears to be working harmoniously.

No serious disagreement on basic policy has been reported. There is a clear division of authority between the party and government, headed respectively by Brezhnev and Kosygin. And no single member of the 12 - man Presidium appears to be forming alliances and maneuvering for supreme power.

Smoking Warning Voted In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a bill which would require health warnings on cigarette packages.

Under the measure approved late Wednesday 72 to 5 and sent on to the House, cigarette packages would have to carry this warning: "Caution: Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

The bill carries a three-year moratorium against requiring such a statement in cigarette advertising.

House debate on the issue may start next week.

Unification Discussed Again —And Again Not Decided

After a comparatively quiet public hearing last night, the Marin County Committee on School District Organization came to no decision on whether to study countywide unification.

About 25 persons, including a sprinkling of school officials and school board members, attended the session, which ranged from philosophical to legal problems.

Committee members agreed to have a special session next Wednesday at 8 p.m. to determine "basic philosophy," before they decided whether to study countywide unification.

S. L. Morgan of Inverness, representing West Marin petitioners for a countywide study, said the petitioners "seek a solution to a local problem (unification of Tomales High School District) by looking at the whole county."

"What West Marin residents are asking is that you include Tomales in with the rest of the county. You cannot in good conscience continue submitting the same Tomales plan that has been rejected by the state, hoping they will change their minds or that opposition will go away," Morgan said.

If the committee does not support a countywide plan, then it should "take a good long look" and come up with "the best plan for unification which would be acceptable to the greatest number of voters, he said.

Mrs. Winifred Frederick of Lagunitas, representing the Small School Districts Assn., said countywide unification should not be considered "except as absolutely the last resort, after you have exhausted all other possibilities."

By letters and oral reports, the committee was informed that the Dixie School District board, Larkspur School District board and Kentfield School District board oppose countywide unification.

Committee members mentioned the possibility of studying all of the county, except the Novato Unified district, with a view toward dividing the remainder into unified districts.

It was pointed out that the committee has reached an impasse with the Tomales unification plan rejected by the state and the Tamalpais district plan rejected by the voters.

Mrs. A. E. Larsen, a committee member, said it is difficult for the committee to make decisions without a basic philosophy.

"Do we carry out the letter of the law or reflect the feeling of the people?" Mrs. Larsen asked.

Committee member Jack L. Mengel said he was ready to ask the committee "to declare a moratorium on any study until it gets definite guidelines from the state."

Leo Souza, chairman of the Committee for Sensible Unification, said he would like to see the committee work "on what they feel is the ideal school district and stick to its guns."

W. H. Oglesby, field representative of the Bureau of School District Organization, State Department of Education, warned that the committee must submit a plan for unification of schools in the Tamalpais High School District to the state board of education by Sept. 15.

The committee then set the Tamalpais High School District as its study area, but noted that this did not preclude a countywide study. Richard Godino notified the committee that there would be another vote in the Tamalpais High School District by June 28, 1966.

The committee decided to fight this schedule and voted to write State Supt. of Schools Max Rafferty and the State Board of Education requesting a change which would permit a later election date.

Split Votes Fill Seats On School Committee

The Marin County Committee on School District Organization last night elected two new members by close margins.

Dr. Walter Way of East Road, Ross, was elected a member-at-large by a 5-4 margin over Dr. John Wellington of 48 Sunshine Avenue, Sausalito.

Dr. Way, a professor of anesthesiology at University of California Medical School, will fill the unexpired term of resigned member Robert E. Rogers of Sausalito, which ends in the fall of 1966.

Floyd D. Fisher of 417 Via del Plano, Loma Verde, was elected as a member from the fifth supervisorial district by a 6-4 vote over Paul S. Scheller, 1025 Simmons Lane, Novato.

There were 10 voters in this election because Dr. Way joined the board and cast a ballot after his election.

Fisher, regional manager for a furniture manufacturing company, will fill the unexpired term of resigned chairman Earl G. Marshall of Novato, which ends this fall.

The terms do not end on a specific date, but on the day when there is a fall meeting of school board trustees from throughout the county.

Scheller had been recommended for the seat by Marshall and the Novato Unified School District Board, and was nominated by Jack L. Mengel. Fisher was nominated by Mrs. Dorothy Brown.

The committee had asked school districts and individuals to "nominate" candidates for the vacancies, but only committee members can nominate.

As a result, one prospective candidate, Alan M. Swabacker of 324 Sunset Parkway, Novato, was suggested by the San Jose School District Board, but was not nominated.

In the first election, Way was nominated by David Ring, Wellington by Mrs. John W. Binckley, and Holm by Mrs. A. E. Larsen.

Wellington was recommended by the three members-elect of the Sausalito School District Board, and Holm by the San Anselmo School District Board.

Eastern Drought Relief Predicted

In its 30-day forecast for mid-June to mid-July, the bureau also predicted above normal rainfall for the western Great Plains and the eastern portion of the intermountain region.

Balmy temperatures were expected for the eastern quarter of the nation and the Southwest, the bureau said, while above normal readings in the eastern half of the Plains region and the Mississippi Valley.

Season's First Contractors' Pact Reached

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Northern California District Laborers Council has signed a tentative contract agreement with Associated General Contractors and two other organizations, marking the first agreement in Central and Northern California construction industry negotiations this year.

The tentative agreement signed Tuesday, promises 1,600 tunnel workers a 95-cent per hour increase in wages and fringe benefits over a three-year period. The contract involves workers on Orville Dam and Bay Area Rapid Transit tunnels and other projects in 46 Central and Northern California counties.

Also signing the agreement were the Engineering and Grading Contractors and the California Contractors Council.

Industry sources said the agreement calls for 30 cent hourly increases in wages this year and in 1966, and 35-cent increases in 1967.

Meanwhile, a negotiations deadline for the union and three groups over a contract for some 20,000 carpenters in 42 northern California counties was extended Tuesday for 15 days. The original deadline was tonight.

Supervisors Prefer Bonds For Park Sites

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today cut $50,000 out of the park and recreation budget allocated for non-specified park acquisition and in doing so, lined up four to one in favor of general obligation bonds for all land purchases and capital improvements.

The board made some additions to the budget, including $2,500 for rental of space for the senior citizen program in San Rafael and $2,500 for a recreation program for the handicapped.

The recommended budget provided $100,000 for land acquisition. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker recommended this be cut in half, saying the county can never hope to achieve purchases through property taxes alone. Such purchases should be through bond issues, he contended.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss was the only member of the board expressing doubt about a bond issue. He voted to reduce the purchase fund, however, observing that even at $50,000, it would be three times greater than in the current year.

Supervisor Chairman Peter H. Behr noted there is $453,000 available in state money for park land purchase in Marin and the purchase program can go ahead as soon as priorities are established.

Leydecker voted against continuing support to the senior citizen program in San Rafael, saying that a city-county report on division of services will recommend that the county stay out of active recreation programs.

Other supervisors, however, over-rode his protests and those of County Administrator Alan Bruce, who said it was time the county stopped "wet nursing" the cities.

Only provision in the allocation is that the program be reviewed before the money is spent.

ARREST

dom Democratice Party.

He said he called Jackson police last night and had a "very frustrating conversation." He learned the boys were in a temporary outdoor jail on the fairgrounds in Jackson, and were held in $100 bail. None of those arrested was providing bail, as all wanted to cause inconvenience for the police, Durbin said.

Police told him the youths were all right, and if they needed medical care, they would get a doctor.

Young Durbin was commissioner of finance in the Redwood student government. Risley took many of the photographs for the Tamalpais yearbook. Coffman was living with the Risleys.

Protests against the arrest and beating of civil rights workers in Jackson were sent yesterday by members of the First Congressional District committee of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party Challenge to Rep. Donald H. Clausen and President Johnson.

Mrs. Enid Folger of Mill Valley, co-chairman of the committee, said the group has asked other Marin residents to send similar wires.

The telegrams said "Brutal treatment Americans exercising constitutional rights dramatizes again urgent need free elections Mississippi. Support challenge."

Mrs. Folger said at least three workers have been hospitalized with scalp wounds and head injuries after this week's Jackson demonstrations, according to direct reports from party workers in Mississippi.

Hula Dancers Rallying To Sausalito Artist

Tahitian girls will dance among the tikis in Sausalito starting at 4 p.m. tomorrow at a luau benefit for sculptor Barney West.

West, proprietor of Tiki Junction at Bridgeway and Mono Street, said funds raised will be used to fight an injunction brought against him by the City of Sausalito, charging zoning and building violations.

Tahitian dancers from the Bora Bora, headed by Tarita of "Mutiny on the Bounty" fame, are to dance on a box car. Refreshments are being donated from as far away as Florida, West said.

"The reason I'm fighting so hard," said West, "is that this is one of the few freedoms left —to work at something you like the best. . . . I feel Tiki Junction is a symbol of the individualist in our country."

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown says West is running a commercial business in a public zone and put in electricity without an electrical permit.

"I'm inviting the city council," said West, "and Mr. Brown."

Washington dispatches said the U.S. decision to send 16,000 to 21,000 more U.S. troops into Viet Nam to bring U. S. strength to 70,000 - 75,000 men pointed up American determination to spare no effort in its fight against the Viet Cong.

Another Washington report said the "airmobile" division of more than 15,000 men specially trained and equipped for anti-guerrilla operations now being organized at Ft. Benning, Ga. could be sent to Viet Nam in two months if necessary.

In Cambridge, Mass., Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said the United States should seek a long-term settlement in Viet Nam based on international guarantees and policing under the United Nations.

Officials in Washington said the Johnson administration had taken a quiet poll and found that more than 60 foreign governments support U.S. policy and that about 25 are opposed and another 25 indifferent.

First reports on the dogfight were radioed to Saigon from the aircraft carrier Midway in the South China Sea.

U.S. military officials here could barely conceal their pleasure in announcing the results of the fight, taking the view that it settled the score for two U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchief jets shot down by Communist MIGs on April 4.

On April 9, a Navy Phantom and its pilot were lost after a tangle with Communist Chinese jets near Hainan, a Chinese island in the Gulf of Tonkin off the North Vietnamese coast.

Exact circumstances of that dogfight were never disclosed. Communist China claimed the jet was shot down by another Navy jet in the confusion of the encounter with the Chinese planes.

Tenative Army plans, according to a report published by College of Marin in February, call for two large pumping stations at Granton Park upstream from the college. Part of the channel would be concrete-lined while other parts would be widened with the earth embankments built up.

After the meeting, Corona declared:

"This was a carnival and a circus, and I think you people (grand jury) were way out of step."

Scott assured Corona that the jury's request for school officials to attend was "not intended as an indictment."

"We have to come up with some kind of recommendation," he said, "and we need the help of many, including schools."

Scott said his panel will welcome ideas from school districts on how to minimize use of marijuana by the county's young people.

First speaker before the near-75 persons attending the courthouse session was Dr. John H. Manwaring, San Rafael pathologist. He said a prevalent attitude by teen-agers that marijuana is harmless is entirely wrong. Rather, he said, it produces risky psychological changes, and in many cases, leads to use of more dangerous drugs.

Matthew O'Connor, agent in charge of the State Narcotic Bureau, said extended use results in numbing of the user's mind. He said contrary to popular conception, marijuana is not addictive, however, it is habit forming.

Symptoms, he said, are dialation of the eye pupils and exaggerated reactions such as excessive laughter, or anger over unimportant aggravations.

Robert H. Prather, principal of Tamalpais High School, termed ridiculous some estimates high percentage of the school's students using marijuana are ridiculous. He said actually is only about two per cent.

He agreed, however, that even this is "not good. We'd like to get it to zero per cent."

Sausalito Chief of Police Kenneth H. Huck, who headed law enforcement agencies in a June 4 marijuana crackdown in Southern Marin, said his department is attempting to control marijuana use by increasing enforcement activities, by a juvenile curfew, and by educating people of its evils through films, speeches, and a display board.

Tiburon Striving For Lower Budget

By ELLEN BRY

Tiburon City Councilmen pared and trimmed their budget last night, trying to gain a low figure for the city's first tax rate while providing as many services as possible.

Councilman John S. Hoffmire Jr. said he was aiming at a 20-cent rate, the figure some aspiring councilmen used when runing for election during the city incorporation drive last June.

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose, in his preliminary budget figures, estimated a 36-cent rate, but told councilmen last night that he expected them to cut his budget recommendations.

The budget session drew an audience of six spectators, two reporters, and a small brown and black dog named Ringo that growled in a friendly manner through most of the three and one-half hour session at Del Mar School.

Councilmen tentatively approved a $40,059 figure for continuation of policing of the city by county sheriff's deputies. But the money will finance a sheriff's substation in Tiburon, Purchase of a radio, and pay the county for a Sheriff's sergeant and three deputies to man the local station.

This decision generally follows the recommendations of the Citizens Planning Advisory Committee in a report which reached councilmen yesterday. It said setting up a local police force at this time would cost the city too much.

The substation plan was backed by Tiburon resident George C. Drejes, who noted that citizens could come to know deputies better if they were regularly assigned to a local substation.

Councilman Fred C. Hannahs said city officials had discussed with Belvedere City Mgr. William L. Cavalli the possibility of a combined police force for the two cities, but the Belvedere opinion was that "it is not practical at this time."

Tiburon has been patroled by sheriff's deputies, under a contract with the county, since incorporation.

Councilmen indicated they would consider hiring their own police chief toward the end of the fiscal year to begin forming a home police force.

The council put off decision on whether to continue with county road maintenance and engineering services. The alternative suggested by Rose is to continue county engineering service, contract for road repair and construction with a private firm, and hire a fulltime city maintenance foreman for small, immediate jobs.

Mrs. Kelly J. Wheeler, a member of the citizen planning study group, noted that its recommendation was to remain under county contract for five years. She was backed by Councilman Hannahs, who favored remaining with the county for at least another year.

Rose's plan was budgeted at $22,680.

Councilmen set an $8,000 budget figure for City Atty. Robert I. Conn, including a $4,200 yearly retainer and $3,000 contingency fee in case of law suits.

The council set a meeting for 8 p.m. next Thursday for further consideration of the budget.

Other preliminary budget figures, submitted by Rose, are $25,626 for running the city office, including $13,200 salary for city manager, up from the $11,400 he now gets; $37,040 for planning and development services; $4,300 for city hall rental; $6,922 for office supplies, insurance, maintenance.

An additional $26,000 has been suggested by Rose for projects the council may want to approve, including work on a master drain, street construction, added policing costs, landscaping all of a plaza-intersection on Tiburon Boulevard, Main Street and Paradise Drive, and a city headquarters reserve fund.

Total budget estimates now are $170,615, but councilmen at future budget sessions are expected to cut the figure.

Barry Criticizes Troops Buildup In S. Viet Nam

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The United States should quit sending ground troops to Viet Nam, Barry Goldwater has told a national Young Republican convention.

The 1964 Republican presidential nominee addressed a cheering audience last night shortly after the government announced that the U.S. Viet Nam force is being increased to between 70,000 and 75,000.

Asians should provide the ground forces, Goldwater said.

"The terrain and climate are familiar to them, unfamiliar to us," he said.

"Our contribution should be the full and proper use of our air and sea power," he said.

San Rafael Police Force To Increase

The San Rafael City Council last night granted Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa a greater increase for his department than he had asked in his original budget request.

The council agreed to increase the police force by three officers and a woman clerk-typist. It also agreed to buy Chiesa a police car for his own use, which will serve also as a standby patrol car. The department now has only one more patrol car than it has beats to cover.

It also added a fourth meter maid, not requested by the chief.

Chiesa's original request was for three officers. Last night he asked for two officers, the stenographer-clerk, and three police cadets.

The council turned down the police cadet proposal but authorized three officers. This will enable the chief to add a second officer to the juvenile division, a third to the inspector's bureau, and one to traffic patrol.

The clerk-typist, Chiesa said, will work a 4 p.m.-midnight shift, serving as receptionist, writing and filing reports.

The additional traffic patrolman will not really be an addition, as Patrolman David Vargo, who does identification work, will be assigned full time to that duty, Chiesa said.

Addition of the meter maid was on suggestion of City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen. He said the city briefly had four meter maids during one period last year, and traffic tickets showed a sharp increase.

The city manager's budget recommendation also included another motorcycle for downtown traffic patrol.

The council made no change in the fire department budget, allowing 10 more firemen to man the city's fifth station.

A $22,732 budget was set up first year's operation of the city's own street painting, which heretofore has been let out by contract.

Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles, who had proposed at an earlier council meeting that the city do the job, last night suggested center striping still be contracted to the county, at a cost of about $7,000 per year, because of cost of buying a striping machine.

Finance Officer Orrin Wendling pointed out that a striping machine which would do 2.6 miles per hour could be bought, new, for $6,500—less than one year's contract with the county. This was included in the budget, amortized at $1,320 per year.

Rawles then had no objection to the city's doing all the work. Two men will be hired for the job.

Councilmen gave Rawles the go-ahead to immediately hire three engineering inspectors on a temporary basis, on his plea that the three inspectors now on his staff cannot handle the current work load. Pay may be around $600 a month, the council ruled.

Discussion of salaries was put off to a meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. next Wednesday, but councilmen agreed there will be an increase in the pay scale for engineers. Rawles said he has found it impossible to recruit junior engineers at $525 per month when Novato pays $583, Marin County, $590, San Leandro, $570, etc.

No changes were made in capital improvement items included in the city manager's proposed budget.

Coast Guard Called For Vessel Aground

A Coast Guard boat was sent to the scene, but no details were available at noon today. The vessel probably broke from its mooring, a Coast Guard spokesman said. No one was believed to be aboard.

Chamber Plans Economic Survey For San Rafael

San Rafael Chamber of Commerce will make an economic survey for the City of San Rafael which city officials hope will be "a big $4,000 worth."

The chamber hopes it will also serve another purpose: increase the county's contribution to the chamber's coffers.

The plan was presented to the San Rafael City Council at a budget study session last night. It was received with enthusiasm.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen opened the presentation by pointing out that the city is limited by its charter to a $1,000 contribution for promotion and advertising—the purpose for which public funds are customarily given to chambers of commerce.

The chamber wants more money. To get it, said Andersen, the chamber proposes to do a job for a city.

It proposes to make an economic survey which would include types of businesses to be sought, housing needs, annexation proposals, along with a traffic and road patterns study, statistics on business and population makeup, etc. For this, it asked $4,000.

"It's a big $4,000 worth," said Andersen. "No one else would do a survey such as described here so cheap."

Robert Ritter, chamber president, appearing to back the proposal, said chamber manager Jack Alvarado and his two-woman staff can and will do the work.

The chamber will present quarterly progress reports and complete the survey within a year, he said.

It also wants the usual $1,000 advertising and promotion contribution, he noted.

Councilmen were unanimous in praising the proposal, agreeing the survey would be worth the money. Formal action is expected at next Monday's council meeting.

The chamber's chance for more county funds comes into it this way:

The board of supervisors has indicated it feels it should not grant more funds to chambers of commerce for promotion than they are given by their cities. On the basis of matching funds, the chamber hopes the county will match the $5,000 received from the city, rather than merely $1,000.

Commuters Like 1812 Overture?

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Can rock 'n' roll music on car radios lead to a different kind of rush-hour bop?

It's possible, says John Anello, cultural director for Milwaukee County parks and music director of a local opera company. Anello suggests stations should soothe the driver with soft music.

He said, "When you have music with a certain tempo and certain dissonances and you are irritated with automobile traffic, you may step it up to keep pace with the music. It's amazing how certain pulsations of music affect you."

Ancient Babylonians worshipped the cow as a goddess. She was called the mother of the moon, and her milk was the sacred drink of the gods.

Airport Proposals Backed By Board

Marin County supervisors wound up last night unanimously supporting both the existing Marin County Airport backed by Novato and the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce proposal to seek Air Force consent to creating an air terminal and industrial park northeast of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Supervisor William A. Gnoss and the County Airport Advisory Committee persuaded the board to budget $170,619 to qualify the county airport northeast of Novato for federal improvement funds — but there were strings attached.

The San Rafael Chamber of Commerce proposal that the county acquire 800 acres of private and public lands between Hamilton's existing runway and San Pablo Bay was unanimously endorsed—and its sponsors asked to work closely with the airport advisory committee.

The supervisors got assurance that Novato would not try to grab the airport and its benefits away from the county.

"I will make a motion, if you want, that we exclude the airport from the annexation" the city has pending before the Local Agency Formation Commission, Mayor Robert D. Carrow assured the board. But, no agreement was reached on sharing costs and profits of the airport.

When Supervisors Byron W. Leydecker, Peter H. Behr and Ernest N. Kettenhofen insisted that the budgeted money not be actually spent until a consultant was hired to provide an economic feasibility survey of the county airport, County Administrator Alan Bruce pointed out that he had been calling for this for years.

The county airport proposal and the San Rafael Chamber idea are not really rivals, declared Ben Ostlind, San Rafael realty broker and spokesman for the chamber's proposal. They are "apples and oranges," he said.

Leydecker asked whether the two plans were a question not of "apples and oranges . . . but of unwillingness to face cold, hard decisions" between alternatives.

"Will the helpless taxpayer pick up the tab?" he asked. "I'm willing to leave money in the budget, but I want an honest-to-God survey of the economic impact. We've listened to a lot of fat generalities but we simply don't have any facts and figures."

Behr chimed in to declare he had been "shocked" by County Planning Director B. D. Dobbs's explanation of why lands around the county airstrip had not been rezoned to preserve them from residential intrusion.

Supervisors questioned why both site purchase and improvement funds should be budgeted. They were told by county officials that last year's application for federal funds was turned down because it was for site alone.

The present application, submitted in March, should be decided on in Washington by August, Bruce reported.

After much rephrasing, the supervisors unanimously approved a motion that the funds would be budgeted, but be frozen until:

1. The board is given the economic survey;

2. The zoning changes are made;

3. A joint powers agreement with Novato spells out how costs and benefits will be split, and

4. The still-unseen federal contract is acceptable to Marin County.

The Novato-backed county airport would be improved to meet federal standards for light plane service. The San Rafael group envisions a facility near — but not interfering with—Hamilton, that would be useful for cargo and industrial executive aircraft, but not the "Sunday flier," Ostlind explained.

San Rafael Chamber President Robert Ritter told the supervisors: "We look upon the Hamilton plan as one of the greatest attractions for industry the county could have . . . We're just about saturated on attracting commuters to live in Marin." Light industry attracted by the proposed development "would provide just the kind of thing we need."

The chamber's plan is practically identical to one consultants Leigh Fisher Associates prepared for the county airport committee two years ago, said Eugene R. Trombley, airport committee chairman. He cited Department of Defense letters turning down the proposal because of military hazards and other factors.

"But don't get the idea we are opposed" to the San Rafael renewal of the plan, he stressed.

Ostlind argued the prior version "didn't give the Air Force anything" but the new plan will, in terms of prolonging the base's utility despite possible future phasing out of manned interceptors.

He asked the board to delegate one supervisor to coordinate efforts for high-level support in Washington for the plan, and asked that the chamber be given "official status" in organizing the campaign.

Israeli Political Rift Deepens

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — A split in Israel's dominant Mapai party seemed imminent today after former Premier David Ben-Gurion urged his supporters in the party to set up a separate slate of candidates for the November national Parliament elections.

Ben-Gurion, who has been attacking the party leader, Premier Levi Eshkol, told a meeting of 150 supporters last night: "Mapai in its present form is unfit to head a government."

The party has headed the government ever since Israel became a nation.

Congress Approves Civilian Space Fund

Both houses gave voice-vote approval yesterday to the bill, which is nearly $70 million less than President Johnson requested.

Mother Wants School Paper

When a student prepares a paper for his class and the semester is over, who should keep the paper—the student or the school.

Mrs. Ellen Dawson of Stinson Beach believes her daughter, Kathy, a sophomore at Tamalpais High School, should be permitted to have the 34-page wild flower report she prepared for her biology class.

"She collected the flowers, pressed them and got their family names. But students were told they would have to be donated or they would receive an incomplete grade," Mrs. Dawson said today.

"Independent, creative work belongs to the person who did it. It would be different if one were working for a company and doing the work while on the job."

Biology teacher G. B. Vanoni sees it differently: "In all the years of teaching, I have never had any problem of this kind. This is part of the assignment. It does become the property of the high school district. It is part of the school's policy."

"If this means this much to the mother," said Principal Robert H. Prather, "we will give the flower collection back."

Since 1920, Prather said, such papers have been going into a permanent herbarium collection. The teacher tells students at the beginning of the semester that if they want copies of term papers, they should make carbon copies.

Prather said Miss Dawson's paper received an "A."

LBJ Consoles Judge's Family

WINDER, Ga. (AP) — President Johnson came to Winder yesterday to payh is respects to a Georgia judge who died at the age of 40.

Johnson spent three hours in Winder attending the funeral and consoling the family of Judge Robert L. Russell of the State Court of Appeals. He then flew back to Washington.

Nuclear Building Budget Trimmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today approved $4,241,636,500 to finance the government's far-flung public works programs during the fiscal year starting July 1.

This is $132,168,500 less than President Johnsno requested, the largest reduction being in funds for the Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC was allotted $2,354,995,000 of the $2,481,000,000 it sought.

Post Offices Get 3-Wheeled Trucks

Five Marin County post offices this week received 51 three-wheeled "mailsters" to carry mail routes previously delivered on foot.

First of the trucks is tentatively scheduled to start working Saturday in San Rafael. Those in Novato will begin next week, while others will go into operation from now through July 6.

San Rafael Post Office got 31 of the mailsters, while 12 went to Novato, four to Corte Madera, three to Mill Valley and one to the Belvedere-Tiburon Post Office.

The mailsters cost $1,000 apiece. Novato Postmaster Harry Overly said they will pay for themselves quickly by ending the need to pay more than $450 monthly to carriers who drive their own cars to reach their routes.

Other savings, according to Mill Valley mails superintendent Frank Bennett, will come because the mailsters will handle parcel post, now carried by larger trucks, and will eliminate the need for relay trucks to take bulk mail to storages boxes.

In addition, carriers will save 30 minutes to an hour daily on each route, the officials say.

The 51 trucks are Westcoaster Mail Masters, made in Stockton and delivered to the Marin County post offices by Howard Motors, 138 Jacoby Street, San Rafael.

Teacher Can Spank

BERKELEY (UPI) — Berkeley public school teachers may spank grade school pupils but, according to new rules, they mustn't lay a hand on high schoolers. The school board rules cautioned the teachers against using a ruler or paddle. Only the bare hand may be used and teachers must "administer it promptly" if the wayward pupils do not "respond to reason."

Senate passage yesterday came first by a voice vote. Later the Republicans demanded a roll call and the measure was approved 61 to 26.

Alcatraz Proposed As U.N. Museum, Library

A former librarian of Congress, who helped draft the UNESCO constitution wants to make Alcatraz ino a United Nations museum and library.

Luther Harris Evans, now director of international and legal collections at Columbia University, envisions the project as helping the "mutual understanding among peoples."

In the library on the island would be the public papers associated with the United Nations and UNESCO founding 20 years ago and the private notes and diaries which Evans hopes officials of all governments, particularly the United States, would donate.

The museum could house paintings, sculptures, permanent and changing collections which would be a "symbolic presentation of the different countries and their cultures," Evans said. As an example, he suggested an exhibit showing the evolution of kingships and democratic governments.

Evans suggested the idea to Belvedere Mayor Merritt K. Ruddock and his wife during a recent West Coast trip. Ruddock is director of the World Affairs Council in San Francisco.

We have been trying to interest people in the project," Mrs. Ruddock said.

FATAL TRUCK CRASH

Thick black smoke billows from flaming wreckage of Tractor-trailer which went out of control and crashed yesterday, killing the driver, Richard H. Neal, 50, of Franklinville, N.J. Teen-Age Tragedy Blocks Grad Rite

YUBA CITY (AP) — Two teenage boys were killed yesterday on a rural road south of Yuba City—just hours before one of them was to have been graduated from high school.

The California Highway Patrol said Romero Perez, 15, and Samuel David Singh, 17, both of Yuba City, died instantly when their motorcycle was struck by a car.

Singh was to have received his diploma from Yuba City High School last night.

The driver of the car, Lee Willie Davis, 54, of Marysville, told the CHP that he pulled out to pass the motorcycle, when the machine switched lanes and crossed in front of his car.

SAUSALITO SCENE

Policeman Is Jealous Of His Elderly Auto

Sausalito police officers Tom Zink and John Coaby were on patrol at 2:25 a.m. today when Zink saw a red and black 1954 Chrysler being driven away from the city parking lot across from the police station.

"Look, John," said Zink, "it's a car just like yours."

"Yes, you don't see many of those any more . . . hey, I think that's mine!" Coady exclaimed.

Coady asked the driver, a man, "where are you going?"

"Across the bridge," he responded.

"Not in my car, you're not!" retorted the officer.

The driver, Hans Jurgen Riha, 24, of San Francisco, a German who is on a visa visiting the United States, was booked in county jail on a charge of car theft.

Riha found a pair of keys hidden in the car to use to start it, Coady said.

Conscience Adds To State Coffers

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State School Fund is $125 richer today thanks to a thoughtful former state employe.

State Controller Alan Cranston reported that an anonymous exemploye admitted taking some sheets, towels and medical equipment from the state several years ago. Cranston said the person sent in the money with the note he was acting "to clear the conscience and find peace with the Lord."

All such money is turned over to the school fund.

Pony Leaguer Dies After Ball Strikes Chest

Sheriff's deputies said Carl W. Knutson Jr. apparently succumbed to cardiac arrest last night.

The boy was at bat in the first inning when the pitched ball struck him in the chest.

He slumped to the ground and was rushed by ambulance to Arcadia Methodist Hospital. But attendants said he was already dead.

"I hold nothing against baseball. In fact, if my younger boy wants to play next year he can go right ahead."

McCarthy Predicts 'Rotten Egg' To Be Found By Probe

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A resolution seeking a joint Assembly-Senate probe of the University of California was on the Senate floor today.

Sen. John F. McCarthy, R-San Rafael, predicted the investigation would turn up a "rotten egg." He made the statement yesterday as the measure cleared the Rules Committee.

The resolution, calling for a study of higher education in California, including the university and the state colleges, is jointly authored by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and Senate Leader Hugh M. Burns. It already has passed the lower chamber.

Unruh and Burns both had emphasized that the resolution envisioned a broad-based, nonsensational look at all aspects of higher education by a blue-ribbon group

But McCarthy, recalling disturbances on the university's Berkeley campus during the past year, said the "no. 1 objective is to find out what really is the story in the University of California.

"I think we're going to find out there's a rotten egg either in the top or the bottom of the administration," he said.

Marin Overruled On Toll Roads Bill

The State Assembly Transportation and Commerce committee, which is going to get a $195 bill from the County of Marin, yesterday passed the toll road bill on to the Assembly Ways and Means committee despite vigorous protests.

The bill would place Highway 37 from Sears Point to Highway 80 under the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings.

Yesterday's action by the committee came after four delays and four trips by Marin County officials to Sacramento to testify.

The board of supervisors yesterday, angry over the delays and the need to send county men to Sacramento so frequently, authorized Chairman Peter H. Behr to write committee chairman Tom C. Carrell, D-Los Angeles, protesting the methods of his committee and asking payment for loss of time by county employees.

This was computed at $195 by Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows.

"I think it's a hell of a way to run a business," Behr said.

County Asst. Public Works Director Arthur T. Knutson, who appeared before the committee yesterday with Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, said the bill came out of committee with only a voice vote. Of the nine committee members present, some voted yes and some no, but there was no way of telling what the count was, he declared.

The Marin officials protested the bill because it would mean that three of the four entrances to Marin would require a toll.

Knutson said that 10 minutes before the hearing began he was given a copy of a $100,000 feasibility study showing that there is not now enough traffic to finance the toll road program.

State Sen. Luther Gibson, D-Vallejo, was the only man speaking in favor of the bill. He cited the high accident rate on the road.

Knutson said today that he and Godino are trying to find out when the bill will come before the ways and means committee so they can again appear to repeat Marin's objections.

Crossing Study Bills Cleared In Sacramento

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Legislation authorizing studies of new toll bridges connecting San Francisco with the East Bay and Marin County cleared the Assembly yesterday.

Given final legislative passage by a 67-0 vote was a bill by Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco, that would allocate $300,000 for a study of the controversial proposal to build a new span between San Francisco and the East Bay.

Backers of the bill said the study was needed to resolve a dispute over two alternative routes — one from India Basin to Alameda and the second from Sierra Point to Roberts Landing.

Passed 56-6 and sent back to the Senate for final amendments was another McAteer bill that would authorize the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to spend money on a study of a San Francisco-Marin crossing.

Both studies would consider the feasibility of using boats—possibly hydrofoils — rather than building new bridges.

The lower house also voted unanimously for a third McAteer measure extending the life of the Bay Area Transportation Study Commission for another two years.

Bagley Says Cranston Greased Drain For Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Efforts to overhaul the state's controversial inheritance tax appraiser system are all but dead for the 1965 legislative session.

The Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee Tuesday turned down another attempt to knock out State Controller Alan Cranston's absolute power of appointment over his 150 appraisers.

The action rejected on voice vote a bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael and all but sounded the death knell for any future attempts with adjournment looming at midnight tomorrow.

Bagley's measure would have eliminated the appraisers, who serve at the politically partisan controller's pleasure. In their place he would have substituted a self-appraisal system with an administrator or executor assession a dead person's estate under the supervision of the State Board of Equalization.

Bagley, ired by the committee's action, declared he'd make another stab during the 1966 budget session and castigated Democrat Cranston for "being instrumental in killing my proposed reform."

"The bill went down a heavily-greased drain," Bagley said, contending "Cranston applied the grease."

One other bill, backed by Cranston, is still pending in the legislature. It would remove the controller's absolute power of appointment, but still give him considerable control over the jobs.

The Senate-passed bill hasn't been scheduled yet in an Assembly committee and was running out of time. The bill would make appointment of appraisers subject to court approval.

Senate Balks At Welfare Regulation

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate has rejected, at least temporarily, a bill that would require all applicants for state welfare aid to appear in person for an interview. Opponents charged it needlessly harasses the needy.

The measure by Assemblyman Robert Stevens, R-Santa Monica, cleared the lower house without much trouble. But when it came up on the Senate floor last night, a band of Democrats succeeded in blocking the measure.

The final vote, after several roll calls, was 19 to 11 in favor of the measure. But it needed at least 21 to pass. Sen. Howard Way, R-Exeter, who was carrying the bill, promised to seek reconsideration and approval sometime today.

Opposition was paced by Sen. Joseph Rattigan, D-Santa Rosa, who contended the bill was unfair to the poor. Other Democrats complained privately that Republicans wanted the bill as a political weapon, and that most applicants are interviewed as a matter of course.

GOP Attempting To Rescue State Disability Benefits

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Assembly Republicans are attempting to come to the rescue of the insolvent disability insurance fund, locked in an Assembly-Senate conference for more than two months.

The fund pays weekly benefits up to $80 to Californians disabled by injury or illness while not on their jobs. More money is going out than is coming in, but a bill to remedy the situation is stymied in the two-house committee with adjournment due tomorrow.

Yesterday, Assembly Republicans proposed amendments that would at least temporarily allow the program to continue without further cuts in benefits planned for July 1.

The proposal would:

1. Speed up collection of taxes paid by workers to finance the multimillion dollar program.

2. Starting Aug. 1, raise earnings subject to the tax from $5,600 to $6,500.

3. Temporarily raise the tax until Jan. 1, 1966 to bring in more money.

4. Allow the fund to borrow money to stay in business.

The California College of Medicine, founded in 1914 as the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, previously was a strictly osteopathic facility.

Superior Judge Steven S. Weisman overruled the protests yesterday.

A contract signed March 31 provides that the California College of Medicine will be operated as a separate unit within the university's system of medical schools.

Burglars Escape From Pet Hospital

A burglar who played peek-a-boo in an incinerator and another who is believed to have worn a wig were surprised last night at the Tamalpais Pet Hospital in Mill Valley after stealing a small amount of narcotics.

David Williams, caretaker, told police that at 11:40 p.m. he was returning to the rear of the hospital at 691 East Blithedale Avenue when he saw a light on in the hall. Then he saw the door to the outside incinerator open slightly.

He walked toward the incinerator and suddenly a face looked at him from behind the door. "Who's there?" yelled Williams, and the door slammed shut.

Williams said that next a man jumped over a seven-foot wall at the back of the hospital and started running toward the Union service station. Williams pursued him and the man fell.

Jumping to his feet, the man, whom Williams said had either very long bushy black hair or wore a wig, yelled, "I'll kill you! Stay away! I've got a gun."

He appeared to be pointing a gun, said Williams.

The other man then jumped over the wall and, together the two, about 18 to 25 years of age, ran toward Purity store.

Williams called police, but they were unable to find the pair.

Missing from the hospital were a bottle containing 20 cubic centimeters of morphine antrophine and some disposable syringes. A bottle which had contained Eunduron was found at the back door broken. Other drugs had been moved in the hospital from a medicine cart. A six-foot iron rod, used to stir the incinerator, was used to pry open the back door, breaking the lock.

Bad Weather Cancels Launch Of Titan 3-C

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — An attempt to launch the Titan 3-C rocket, the world's most powerful booster, on its maiden flight was postponed today after the countdown had moved within 30 seconds of blastoff.

Air Force officials made the decision to call off the oft - delayed launch attempt because thunderstorms had swept into the Cape Kennedy area moments after a hold was called at T-minus 30 seconds.

Retired General Would Push The Button First

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former Air Force Chief of Staff Thomas D. White says that he would make the first attack if he was "reasonably sure" an enemy was about to launch a nuclear attack on the United States.

The retired general yesterday told a Senate subcommittee studying national security policy that evidence might be conclusive from intelligence and other sources that an attack was imminent. He said the United States should not, under all conditions, let the enemy strike first.

White also commented on suggestions that Chinese atomic installations be destroyed by missiles or bombers. He said this would "only be a temporary palliative and its long range implications are completely unfavorable."

San Anselmo Nearing Decision On Budget

Final review of department budget requests for 1965-66 was held last night by the San Anselmo City Council but action on the proposed budgets, including a five per cent salary hike for all full-time employees was postponed until Monday.

The council adjourned last night's special budget session until 8 p.m. Monday when a decision is expected on the $802,857 budget recommended by Douglas J. Flautt, city administrator.

Detroit To Test Fragrant Smog

DETROIT (AP) — If you can't get rid of air pollution, at least make it smell nice, reasons Lucas S. Miel, general manager of Detroit's municipal bus system.

His department is planning to experiment with an odor-control chemical which makes motor-bus exhaust fumes smell like flowers, Miel said yesterday.

He said Santa Monica, Calif., uses the chemical in its municipal buses and that authorities there are pleased with the fragrant change.

Strawberry Grower, Student Pickers Split Over Conditions

SALINAS (AP) — More than 100 high school students have been fired and another 61 have quit the fields owned by Salinas Strawberries Inc., until recently the largest California employer of Mexican nationals.

Both the firings and the quittings yesterday followed complaints by the workers that the fields had been picked before by Mexican braceros. The students said this prevented them from earning decent piecework wages.

Owner Tom McNamara said he'll ask for braceros in the autumn. He indicated they will not be needed this summer.

Two coaches and 61 athletes from Los Alamos, N.M., quit after a week and headed home. They were getting $1 a crate.

The other 100 youngsters were from the area around Salinas. Student leader and foreman David Weaver asked for another field or a guarantee of $1.40 an hour. Weaver said company officials fired the students with no comment.

McNamara said students would replace his 1,931 braceros by July 6. But he said he'd need Mexicans again in the fall when the students return to school.

Newspaper Advertising Scores More Sales than Other Media

The nation's local advertisers invested $2.7 billion in newspapers last year. That's six times as much as they spent in radio, nine times as much as in TV, three times as much in newspapers as in all other major media combined!

Herman C. Nolen, president of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., puts it this way: "We at McKesson feel that if you place an advertisement in a newspaper the result is—something happens. You get action.'

Ted Kennedy Shows Talent As An Artist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Talented, the eminent art director mused, as he looked at a sample of the young fellow's work. Talented. All he needs is some years to develop himself.

The young artist is Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy of Massachusetts and the sample of his work is a painting of a couple of sturdy fishing boats, one green, one blue, tied alongside a brick building at Marblehead, Mass.

Now the art connoisseur, John Walker, director of the National Gallery of Art, rendered his judgment with full recognition of the circumstances under which this and other Ted Kennedy paintings were executed.

A year ago June 19, Kennedy and friends were on a plane trip to Massachusetts. The plane came down — "like a toboggan ride through the treetops" as Kennedy later related.

Kennedy fastened his seat belt, but his back was broken. The pilot and a Kennedy aide were killed, everybody else aboard was hurt.

So it was six months in a Boston hospital for Kennedy, strapped onto a thing called a Stryker frame. This holds your back immobile but if you get tired looking at the ceiling, it will flip you over on your stomach.

So what did Ted do? For his blonde wife Joan he did a winter landscape with a covered bridge and New England farmhouse. For Mrs. John F. Kennedy a red cottage on a spit of sand with a sailboat on the horizon. And so on.

The picture of the two Marblehead boats was presented to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy. When the Washington Post printed a color reproduction of it, an Associated Press newsman submitted the print to gallery director Walker for his comment.

Walker dictated the following statement, and note what a diplomat he turns out to be:

"Sen. Kennedy is a talented painter. Like Winston Churchill, he may not have all the time he wishes to develop this talent until his retirement, which we hope will be many years hence."

All told, the senator did seven paintings in the hospital.

Kennedy, now 33, was first elected to the Senate in 1962 to fill out two years in a seat once held by his brother, the late president. While in the hospital, he was re-elected to a full six-year term in 1964.

"The best politician in the family," John F. Kennedy once called him — and some experts figure he has even more command over Massachusetts politics than his brother ever did.

Sewer Approved For Sunny Hills

Plans and specifications for the Sunny Hills sewer line, running from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to Center Boulevard, were approved last night by directors of the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

Completion of the 1,500-foot line to serve the relocated Sunny Hills Homes and Sunny Hills shopping center is expected by September. Bids on the project will be opened at 8 p.m. July 7.

The meeting was adjourned in memory of director Camille P. Remy, former mayor and city councilman of Fairfax, who died last week.

Goldwater Launches New Political Education Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Barry M. Goldwater, his eye again on the Senate, today formally launched a grassroots political education organization which he said would give "focus" to American conservatives without sparking a third party.

The 1964 GOP presidential nominee announced that he will serve as honorary chairman of the Free Society Association, with Denison Kitchel, his former campaign manager, as president and operating chief.

Kitchel told reporters the new group would not disavow splinter groups like the John Birch Society and there was a "strong possibility" it would draw members from such extremist organizations. Goldwater did not mention this issue in his formal statement.

Although the new group aimed its appeal at both Republicans and Democrats, Goldwater underscored its GOP character by announcing in advance he will run for the seat of Democrat Carl Hayden, 87-year-old dean of the Senate from Arizona.

In a news conference statement, Goldwater reemphasized that he would "resist with all my strength" the formation of third parties.

"I am a Republican and I intend to remain one, and in that capacity to assist the party wherever that assistance is sought in consonance with my ability to do so," he said.

Three Names Added To Tam Grads' List

Supervisors Cut Outlay On Roads

Marin County Supervisors trimmed a net $50,231 from the county roads budget in a midnight hearing last night. The result lowered the running estimate on the tax rate to $2.254 per $100 assessed valuation.

Eliminated from the budget were the Civic Center service road extension to the Terra Linda overpass at Highway 101, construction of median curbs on northern Bridgeway in Sausalito, and realignment and widening of parts of Tennessee Valley Road.

The board also trimmed the $50,000 contingency fund in half.

Everytime we put this tag on a used car, we put our reputations on the line. In writing.

When we Chevy dealers single out used cars and give them this OK tag, we expect to be held to it—with a new 25-month warranty that works like this:

1. The Dealer warrants that the car has been inspected, roadtested and reconditioned as necessary to be in serviceable condition when you buy it. In the event of mechanical failure of the car, he agrees as follows:

For the first 30 days, the Dealer will pay 50% of the parts and labor repair bills necessary to keep the vehicle in serviceable condition under normal use, provided that the repairs are taken care of in his shop at his regular retail price . . . that the remaining 50% is paid in cash . . . and that those repairs do not qualify for adjustment under any new vehicle warranty.

This doesn't include tires and tubes, glass, radio or air conditioning, or any damage resulting from collision, accident, abuse or misuse. Nevertheless, the Dealer will furnish replacement tires, tubes, and/or labor during this 30-day period at a discount of 25% from his retail prices if you pay the rest in cash.

For the next 2 years, the Dealer will pay 15% of the parts and labor necessary to keep the car serviceable—providing the work is done in his shop, at his regular retail price, and the balance is paid in cash.

2. This warranty shall not apply if the car is used "for hire."

3. This warranty is issued by the Dealer—not by the manufacturer of the vehicle.

4. This Warranty is expressly in lieu of any other warranties, expressed or implied, including any implied warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, and any other obligations or liabilities on the Dealer's part, and Dealer neither assumes nor authorizes any other person to assume for it any other liability in connection with the sale of the Vehicle.

5. Proof of warranty must be available with the vehicle at the time of payment for repairs and adjustments, and is not transferable or assignable.

6. This warranty is not valid unless signed by the Dealer's authorized department head and by the Purchaser, who is to retain a copy.

And remember. We're Chevy dealers. And if anyone knows the importance of living up to promises and pleasing a customer so he'll come back for his next car, it's us. So stop in soon.

MAIL ORDER ART GOES ASTRAY

Salvador Dali's "Mystical Rose Madonna" is among the more than 250 paintings, worth $85,000, located today in Alhambra, near Los Angeles, after Sears, Roebuck and Co. reported the moving van which was hauling them from Las Vegas had disappeared. The paintings are from the Vincent Price collection. The van's driver, first held for investigation, probably will be released today, police said. (AP Wirephoto)

Death Row Population Down, May Go Lower

The death row population at San Quentin Prison, which reached a record 55 in May, was scheduled to drop to 51 today with three condemned convicts returned to Orange County for new penalty trials.

Seven other condemned men are likely to have new penalty trials soon, according to Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

There has been no execution at the prison since Jan. 23, 1963, and there are no executions set.

There have been 214 inmates hanged at San Quentin and 194 executed by gas, according to a history of capital punishment compiled by Warden L. E. Wilson.

Since Jan. 1, 1959, there were 35 executions. In the same period there have been 18 commutations, but there have been none since December, 1963, Wilson reported.

Two men have been on condemned row since August, 1957 he said.

The population of death row and the status of the inmates varies from week to week, due to court action, discharges for new trials and other factors, Wilson noted.

In the last three years 18 condemned inmates have received new penalty trials, and 12 have been returned to the prison with a new death sentence, he said.

The warden said the recent lack of executions has been due to various court actions, including the Morse decision, which calls for a new penalty trial when a jury has been told that men with life sentences are eligible for parole in seven years.

Another ruling is the Dorado decision that a suspect must be told of his rights the moment he becomes the focus of a criminal investigation.

There also is the Griffin decision which ruled that no reference can be made in court to the defendant's failure to testify on the witness stand.

The first execution at San Quentin Prison was on March 3, 1893, Wilson said. The last hanging at the prison was May 1, 1942.

Divorces Sought, Not Yet Completed

The filings, which should have appeared under "Divorces Asked," were those of Marie vs. Robert H. McDonough, Alberts S. vs. Jean S. Burchard, Mary Caroline vs. William A. Logan and William Franklin vs. Jerry R. Royse. All charged cruelty.

Housewives Now Take Up Belly Dancing

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eight women, three of them housewives, are starting a new hobby. They are learning the art of Mideast belly dancing.

All said they were doing it just for fun and that they would be afraid to perform in public.

Teaching the intricate maneuvers of the belly dancing is Susanne Hoffman, 23, a secretary. When she's teaching her speciality, at the school (The Penn Center Dance Club) however, she's known as Princess Neila.

Describing the dance, Miss Hoffman, or Princess Neila, said:

"It's not just jumping around. It's an art.

"People just don't appreciate the beauty of the dance. It's so frustrating to dance for Americans. A lot of them think it's a strip or something. All they do is make wisecracks.

"I dance to Greek music, which isn't so authentic because it's slower and in 5-4 time, rather than Arabian 7-8 time.

"And I move my feet too much. Also I don't do the real stomach rolling. To do that you have to start practicing as soon as you can walk. It's extremely hard."

"I'm doing it for personal satisfaction," said one student, Marie Vartanian, 30.

Her sister-in-law, Pat Vartanian, also the mother of three, said, "I'm doing it for release."

FLOOD'S AFTERMATH—A trailer park in the Denver suburb of Littleton, Colo., looked like this today after cloudbursts sent a 15-foot wall of water down the South Platte River last midnight. (AP Wirephoto)

Cloudbursts, Floods, Tornados Clobber Denver, Colorado Plain

DENVER (AP) — The worst flood in more than 30 years pounded Denver and communities to the south last night and today, leaving hundreds homeless, ripping out bridges, and causing millions of dollars in damages.

Most of Denver was without power during the night and early morning as a result of flooding of the huge Public Service Co., power plant.

So far only one death has been reported. A 69-year-old Denver man drowned after returning to his home from which he and his wife were evacuated earlier.

Floodwater roaring out of mountain cloudbursts raced down the South Platte River last yesterday. The floods struck after tornadoes ripped through Palmer Lake south of Denver and also pounced down in an area southeast of here.

At the Valley Country Club, three golfers on the course were injured as terrific winds smashed flimsy shelter houses in which they had sought refuge.

Hundresd of persons living close to the South Platte River had to leave their homes. They were given shelter in schools and other buildings.

The crest of the South Platte flood struck shortly before midnight. Another crest, three hours later, flattened out before reaching the metropolitan area.

Denver Fire Chief Cassio Frazzini was swept from a rowboat early today in the middle of the torrent while trying to reach some of the trapped persons. He was rescued later as he clung to a tree along the edge of the raging torrent.

Gov. John A. Love made a personal inspection of some of the flood area and called it appalling and unbelievable.

The redwoods of Northern California occupy some 1.5 million acres, 97 per cent of all the redwood forests anywhere. The belt stops just short of the Oregon border.

Astronauts In D.C. To Receive Medals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Gemini 4 astronauts came to the White House today to accept medals from President Johnson and hear a presidential statement that their historic feats "closed the gap in manned space flight."

Johnson, in remarks prepared for the medal presentation ceremony, said the walk-in-space flight of astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II clearly indicated the United States no longer trails the Soviet Union in manned flight.

And he said their achievement had done even more by raising hopes around the world for "close coooperation among all nations in exploring and using space for the common good and peaceful interests of mankind."

McDivitt and White flew in separate planes to nearby Andrews Air Force Base. Their families were with them. Helicopters picked them up and landed them on the White House grounds.

The President planned to pin on their chests the Exceptional Service medals of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Charles W. Mathews, manager of the Gemini program office of the Manned Space Center at Houston, Tex., was to receive the same award.

White's citation said that as "the first man to engage in self-propelled extra-vehicular activity" he expanded the knowledge of space environment.

Mathews was honored for "his ability to resolve the most complex technological and managerial problems."

After the White House ceremony, the astronauts' crowded agenda for the day included: A motorcade to the Capitol; luncheon on the Senate side with Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey; a walk to the House side to be introduced to members of that chamber in the well of the House.

Tonight they are to be narrators of one of the most remarkable films ever made — a record of their four-day Gemini adventure. Watching and listening in the State Department auditorium will be diplomats of many nations. Then comes a reception at the State Department where the diplomats will greet the astronauts, Mathews and their families.

Wednesday, the astronauts' old home towns poured out tributes to them. The biggest crowd in the history of Jackson, Mich. — an estimated 125,000 — lined a parade route for McDivitt. A youngster's sign said "By Gemini, you did it."

Cheering throngs estimated at 150,000 greeted White at San Antonio, Tex., and referring to his birth there, he said: "It's wonderful to be back in San Antonio which gave me a good start when I was launched at Ft. Sam Houston and started me on my way."

Graduation Is Delayed While Brush Fire Fought

Graduation exercises for Bolinas and Stinson Beach eighth grade pupils were just about to begin last night in the Bolinas Community Center when the fire whistle blew in the station in the same building.

This caused the ceremonies to be held up 30 minutes until a small brush fire on Little Mesa could be subdued, said Supt.-Principal Peter M. Auer.

Awards given at ceremonies went to Chris Harris of Bolinas, principal's award for outstanding school achievement; Cynthia Vitelli, Lee Phillips and Harris, performing arts awards; Sandy Sorensen, art award.

Awards were also made to Arthur Okamura, a parent, who rebuilt Bolinas School's library and coached the baseball team, and to his wife, Elizabeth, for playing for school singing lessons and musical productions.

Father Delivers One Twin, Second Dies In Hospital

OAKLAND (UPI) — A young father of seven delivered No. 8 in a car yesterday —and then lost No. 9 at an Oakland hospital.

Melvin Fairley, a 26-year-old Berkeley construction worker, was awakened by his wife Johnnie, 25, early yesterday and informed that "it's time to go." Actually, it was past time.

Fairley stopped his car one block from Kaiser Foundation Hospital, delivered a 2-pound 5-ounce daughter, and drove on. A second girl, weighing 2 pounds 8 ounces, was delivered shortly after their arrival at the hospital, but died last night.

The Fairleys, who were married when he was 14 and she was 13, have seven other children ranging in age from 11 to 2.

Rocket Plane's Flier Likes View

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—Air Force Capt. Joe Engle, making his highest flight in the X15 rocket plane, radioed from 244,000 feet:

"The view up here is terrific."

Engle was on a research flight yesterday when he looked down on the earth from more than 46 miles high. He hit 3,443 miles an hour.

Although it was Engle's highest flight, other X15 pilots have reached 354,000 feet and 4,104 miles per hour.

Union Vote Date Is Due At Fairchild

Employees at San Rafael's Fairchild Semiconductor plant next month may learn the date of an election on whether they will be represented in collective bargaining by the International Assn. of Machinists.

Announcement of a date by the National Labor Relations Board is expected after July 24, at the end of a 60-day "truce" period which grew out of the filing of several unfair labor practice charges in March by Machinists Local 238.

After investigation, the labor relations board declined to file a complaint against Fairchild, but said it found evidence in support of a union charge that the firm had held meetings and quizzed employees on company time in an effort to discourage them from organizing.

At the NLRB's request, Fairchild signed an agreement to post for 60 days notices saying the company would not interfere with employees' rights under the National Labor Relations Act. The union local, however, refused to sign the agreement.

The election was originally scheduled for April 1, but was automatically postponed when the union filed its charges. The office of NLRB regional director Roy O. Hoffman said yesterday that a new date will be set shortly after the posting period ends July 24.

Stock Market Closes Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today for the third straight session. Trading was moderately active.

After a mixed opening, the list showed some hesitancy but gradually worked higher. It obtained a greater following as the session wore on.

Sperry Rand, up a point, became active after trading was temporarily halted in American Photocopy, a low-priced gainer of the past four sessions.

Gains of 5 or more were made by IBM and U.S. Smelting. Up about 2 were Polaroid and Xerox.

Gains of a point or so were scored by U.S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, American Cyanamid and United Aircraft.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.1 million shares compared with 6.32 million yesterday.

Here was the picture near the close:

Gains of fractions to a point or more were made by key stocks. Higher-priced issues did better, IBM rising 3 and Polaroid 2.

The rise was spotty, but selected blue chips boosted the industrial average. Up a point or better were U.S. Steel, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Jones & Laughlin and Goodrich. Fractional advances were posted for General Motors, Chrysler, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse Electric and Johns-Manville.

Selling pressure caused a halt in trading for American Photocopy which has been the most active stock and a substantial gainer for the past four sessions. A denial that IBM was negotiating to acquire the company triggered selling.

Korvette was down nearly 2 after sale of a big block. Off a point or so were United Air Lines and Control Data.

Gains of a point or more were scored by Western Air Lines, Universal Oil Products, American Commercial Lines, Atlantic Refining, Schenley, Kaiser Aluminum, Capital City Broadcasting, Dura Corp., General Aniline & Film and International Minerals & Chemicals.

Bank Group Buys Flood Bond Issue

SAN FRANCISCO—A Bank of America underwriting group has bought the $5 million bond issue of Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District, zone No. NC-1.

The new outlet will be in Palo Alto's Town and Country Village, at the entrance to Stanford University on El Camino Real. Official opening is expected about Dec. 1, according to president John Anton.

Started a little more than three years ago, the firm has nearly $11 million in assets.

Anton said the company's decision to open its first branch in Palo Alto was based on "tremendous growth potentital in this area."

John P. Bourne is Big Sir of the Sons of Retirement, Inc. (SIRS) group.

Industrial Output Still Going Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrial production rose in May for the seventh straight month.

The Federal Reserve Board reported yesterday its index of industrial production rose from 140.8 in April to 141.3 in May. Last May, it stood at 131.3. The board's index uses 100 for the 1957-59 average.

Gains in output of machinery and other business equipment were a major factor in the increase.

The board said the rate industrial production is increasing has slowed in the last two months.

AID FOR ECONOMY

Pocketbook Lift Is Due From D.C.

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Two weeks from today the government is set to give many of you a lift where it counts — in your pocketbook. Washington hopes this will go a long way toward offsetting or even blocking the general economic slowdown that stock traders and others have been fearing.

For some the increased income will come as a boost in Social Security benefits, with a lump sum due shortly to make the larger old age payments effective from the first of this year. The total will be around $1.5 billion this year.

For many others the lift will come in a cut in federal excise taxes on a wide list of goods and services. The windfall totals around $5 billion a year for consumers and manufacturers.

For the military there is a pay boost in the making.

And this year you are getting the benefit of the second stage of the cut in personal income tax rates. The money withheld from your paycheck isn't affected because this was cut the entire amount last year. But in figuring what's due the Internal Revenue Service, you'll be using lower tax rates for the same income bracket. Your personal income this year should be affected by one or more of these measures —whether it will be larger payments by the government or smaller tax collections.

But the government expects that people will respond to the increased money in their pocketbooks, or the lower prices on goods and services freed of excise taxes, by spending more.

In turn, this spending can ripple out through the economy. Example: If lower prices on cars because of reduced taxes leads more persons to buy them, then the car makers will be producing more, buying more from their suppliers, hiring more workmen.

And all those benefiting from this will also be getting more money — and will be expected to spend more.

This is counted on to give the second half of 1965 a lift that Wall Street apparently thinks it will be needing.

But also in the weeks and months ahead the government will step up its spending in many other lines — aerospace and defense contracts, or federal aid to schools, highway construction, and new and old forms of social welfare.

Some will benefit directly. Others will gain because communities will get contracts or increased federal funds, and local business is stimulated.

Business firms, large and small, have stepped up their plans for spending on new plants and equipment. This, too, can ripple out through the economy. For many it can mean jobs, or longer work weeks, or increased sales on goods produced or new contracts and subcontracts.

Airline To Keep Helicopter Firm Flying In Black

SAN FRANCISCO—Bay area air travelers flying to New York's Kennedy Airport aboard Trans World Airlines Starstream jets may soon make direct New York Airways helicopter connections.

Subject to Civil Aeronautics Board approval, TWA will guarantee New York Airways break even costs of scheduled flight services to the extent they are not covered by operating revenues.

The TWA program of financial assistance follows a similar agreement whereby TWA will underwrite the break even costs of San Francisco-Oakland Helicopter service between TWA's Gate 56 at San Francisco International Airport and the Santa Clara county's Palo Alto and San Jose airports. This program also requires CAB approval.

County To Hire Expert To Draft Policy Plan

The Marin County Board of Supervisors today agreed to seek the services of a "recognized, national authority on planning" to aid the county in developing a policy plan.

The policy plan, developed through consultation with citizen committees, would be the foundation for a Marin County master plan, explained Planning Director B. D. Dobbs.

The decision was made during review of the $242,816 planning department budget for fiscal 1966. The board agreed that development of a policy plan would take about two years and the top-level man would be available for consultation with the local staff one day each week.

Money for the project was provided by deleting a planner that Dobbs had requested in his budget and putting the $9,480 salary into the contractual service account.

The board also included $5,000 in the budget as estimated county share for a master plan for Fairfax. The city and county would join in putting up some of the cost and the federal government would pay the biggest share of the plan. Total cost will be about $31,000, Dobbs said.

The budget includes addition of a senior planner, a draftsman and a clerk to bring the planning staff to 24 persons.

The senior planner, to start at $10,440 a year, would work mostly at improving planning liaison with cities.

Supervisors, who have only tomorrow remaining in their two-week budget review, still must make decisions on many county departments.

Tomorrow's session will begin at 9 a.m. at the Civic Center with the health department, mental health and West Marin Justice Court on the agenda.

The afternoon session, starting at 1:30 p.m. will be on the budgets for the county superintendent of schools and county library.

Ex-Captain Held For LBJ Threats

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A former Air Force captain with a record of mental illness dating back to his retirement 20 years ago has been charged with threatening to kill President Johnson.

Federal agents arrested Dorsey Lee Webster, 54, Richmond, Va., yesterday and charged him with threatening the President's life in a series of telephone calls to the White House Tuesday.

Secret Service agents said the calls were traced to the bachelor officers quarters at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, where Webster had rented a room Monday on his arrival here from Cincinnati.

Marin Labor Council Puts Barb To Railroad Officials

The Marin County Labor Council last night gave the Northwestern Pacific Railroad a kudo with a stinger attached.

The council directed to NWP a note of congratulation on reopening its Eureka line which was washed out in last Christmas week's floods, and appended it to an inquiry as to when the railroad is going to start reopening the Puerto Suello Tunnel in San Rafael, closed since July 1961.

The council heard from David McCain, secretary of the Stanislaus-Tuolomne Central Labor Council, that lettuce and strawberries picked by union labor, are moving to market in equal or better condition than past years' crops picked by braceros.

McCain said 135 contracts had been signed with farm labor contractors by the Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee. He said that, with higher wages and state unemployment insurance coverage, there would be an abundant supply of farm labor.

Retail Clerks Union Local 1119 reported rejection of a contract offer from Macy's department store, and said a federal mediator may be requested to resolve the impasse.

Teacher Files $100,000 Suit In Beating Case

A San Francisco school teacher, who lives in Muir Woods Park, has filed suit for $100,000 damages against a teaching colleague and her husband, claiming they beat him as he sat in his car on a San Francisco street.

The plaintiff is Edward L. Crossley Jr. of 471 Panoramic Highway, who teaches Spanish at Lowell High School. He filed the suit in San Francisco Superior Court against Jean-Paul Trelaun, a supervisor of secondary education at University of California, and his wife, Sarah, who teaches French at Lowell High.

The complaint alleges that last Friday afternoon the Trelauns blocked his car, attempted to drag him from it, and struck and scratched him about the head and face. He asks $50,000 general damages and $50,000 punitive damages.

Nat'l Open Course Takes Its Toll In Early Play

By BOB GREEN

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 7,191-yard Bellerive Country Club course took its toll of the early first round starters in the U.S. Open Golf Tournament today, with only two of the first 21 players to make the turn matching par 35.

Most of the top four players started later.

Of the first 21 making the turn, only Wes Ellis Jr., of West Caldwell, N.J., and Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., were able to equal par. Jack McGowan of Largo, Fla., had a 36, but most of the others were well over, ranging up to a 46 by Billy Farrell of Greenwich, Conn.

The weather was cool and the skies slightly overcast for the start.

Former British Open champion Kel Nagle, 44-year-old Australian, also hit the turn in 35 and became the only player on the course under par with a birdie three on the 10th.

Two former Open champions, Billy Casper and Julius Boros, had minor difficulties. Casper made the turn in 37 and Boros in 36.

Two long par four holes, the 470-yard fourth and 465-yard fifth, were causing the most trouble. Of the first 28 players over those two, there were 34 bogeys, a double bogey, a triple bogey and only three birdies.

The temperature was in the high 50s when John Berry Jr., a pro from Gladwyne, Pa., was first off the tee at 7:45 a.m., EST. He was playing in a three-some with Jerry W. Pittman of Rye, N.Y., and amateur Randy Petri of Houston.

The forecast called for a high of about 80 with clearing skies and slight breeze. The long-range forecast was the same for the four days of the 72-hole test that ends Sunday.

Defending champion Ken Venturi and tourney favorite Jack Nicklaus were not scheduled to tee off until the afternoon on the 7,191 yard, par 35-35— 70 Bellerive Country Club course.

Nicklaus is playing with Bob Charles of New Zealand and Sam Snead, making his 25th try for the Open crown that has always eluded him. They were to begin at 12:59 p.m.

JIM MURRAY

A Very Special Sporting Event

ST. LOUIS — There are 50 golf tournaments a year. There are also street cars every five minutes along Main Street, USA. There is a fight every Thursday night at the Olympic. You can get a pool game any night down at the corner. Movies are continuous, and the trouble with elephants is that when you've seen one, you've seen them all.

The Open is special. It's a golf tournament only in the sense that it is 72 holes long. The winner is not just a guy who's putting well; it's one who's playing well.

The Masters is a great tournament because it's played on a great course. But they don't let the rough grow or cut new bunkers or dog-leg new holes.

You don't get invited to the Open. You shoot your way into it. No 1910 champions need apply—unless they can shoot 67 on qualifying day. If you won the tournament as recently as five years ago, you get in on a pass. Six years ago, and you qualify, baby. Just like the club pro at Bakersfield.

BEN HOGAN won four of these things and tied for a fifth but he gets in line just like everyone else. He won't, of course. But the Open shrugs. You win this tournament just once and you belong to a great elite of sports. This is no Monday night fight at St. Nick's. This is for all the glory, babe.

This is not the Creeping Wisteria open, either. This is not one-putt golf, either. You need all the shots.

The golfers snarl. They don't like the qualifying. They don't like the tricked-up course. They tell you they'd rather win the Used Edsel open or the Sasparilla open or the Upper Sandusky Four-Ball or the Tijuano Lower Open because the money is better. But don't let them kid you. The U.S. Open is the big apple. The rest of your life you wear the halo. The Sunset Camellia Open is like winning the club championship compared to this. It's like being the low gross at Mill Valley. Or beating your wife, 1 up, in a husbands-and-wives tournament.

HORSEMEN TELL you they'd rather win the Belmont than the Kentucky Derby. Ballplayers tell you the home run they hit in the World Series with the bases loaded wasn't their greatest thrill. Golfers who fail to make the cut in the Open tell you the Tucson Open was tougher because not so many good players got shut out.

Goosefeathers. Hog-grease. Bullsmoke. Horse tails. You win the National Open, you're an Academy Award actor, a Medal of Honor soldier, a Command Performance opera singer. You are at the top of your profession. Upsets have won this thing, but never flukes. Particularly, lately.

THEY'RE NOT content to pick the toughest course in the Open. They insist on booby-trapping it. They take the toughest-looking waterfront varmint they can find and then not only put a knife in his teeth but give him a machine gun, a vial of poison and a stick of dynamite.

Joe Dey and the USGA remind me of the torturer who has his victim immersed in boiling water, spreadeagled on a rack, fed vinegar and water and hit regularly with molten rocks and he comes in and oversees this inhumanity and asks sweetly, "Hasn't anybody thought to pull his nails? Or put bamboo under them?"

THEY PICK a course so long Greyhound would have four scheduled stops, so narrow you have to flip to see who goes first down the fairway and so overgrown in the rough that Porky Oliver once actually lost a free drop over his shoulder.

The "Soft American" influence is being felt even in the Open, however. It used to be a three-day tournament with 36 holes on the last day. Since golf became just another Sunday TV show, though, the Open is onw only 18 holes a day. It's the only thing it has in common with the Tucson Open—or the Sunset Camellia or the Carey's Beer and Ale.

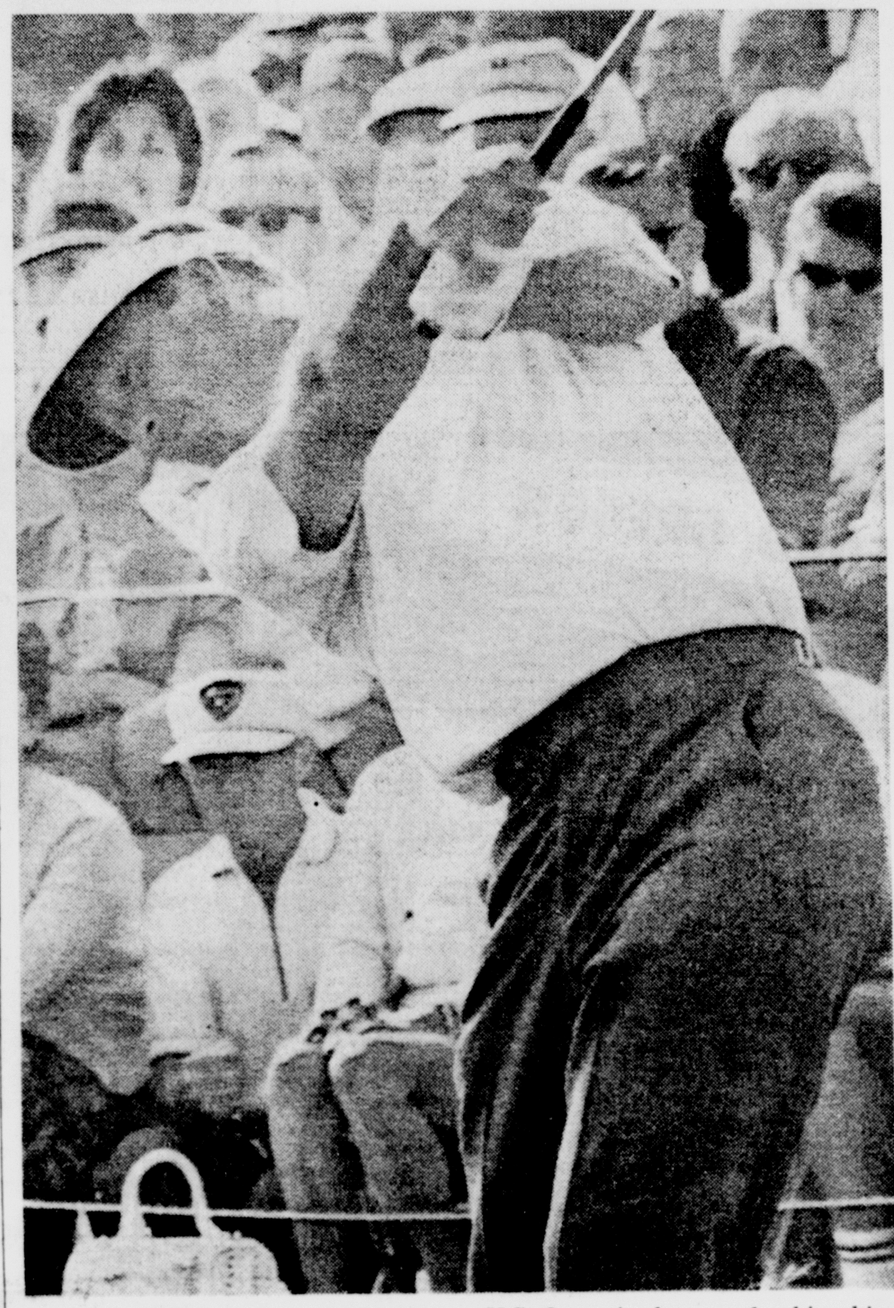
THEY HAVE leaked the information to the press that the near-collapse of Ken Venturi in the heat of Washington last year is the REAL reason. Believe that, and I'll try you on Santa Claus. A four-day tournament means four days of crowds, a Sunday show on the electronic eye. As a drain on the physique, they can never explain how Ben Hogan crawled out of a bus wreck, wore rubber stockings—and won three more of these things.

It is to be hoped that TV doesn't reduce National Opens to four holes a day for 18 days to compete with the Huntley-Brinkley show or the Munsters.

BUT IT'S doubtful if even that can dim the lustre of the Open. Hogan won it four times but only a few are multiple winners. Cary Middlecoff won two, played off for a third. Sarazen, Jones and Hagen are a few of the names to peg this lofty championship. Arnold Palmer won it exactly once. Sam Snead won it exactly never. There are 9,000 other professional golfers who will win it exactly never.

It's the Open, It's not just another Tuesday bridge game, Friday night at St. Nick's, a day game in St. Louis, a run of luck with the dice. It's instant history, babe. You're the heavyweight champ, the World Series hero, the Kentucky Derby jockey and the first man on Everest.

YOU WIN the others for the pocketbook. You win the Open for the history book. If your palms sweat, your knees knock, your breath comes in short gasps as you come up to 18 needing a three to win it all, don't worry. Palmer feels the same way. So did Napoleon. It's a question whether you make history or make bogey, whether you write a golf book or just read them, whether you go down in anthologies or just down in the mouth.



POWER PLUS — Arnold Palmer, who shot a three-under-par 67 in a practice round yesterday to prove he's ready for a strong bid in the U.S. Open, is shown unleashing his tremendous power as he teed off on first hole of first round this morning. (UPI Telephoto)

Lopez Named A.L. All-Star Manager

BOSTON (AP) — Al Lopez, manager of the Chicago White Sox, was named today to manage the American League All-Stars against the National League All-Stars at Minneapolis St. Paul on July 13.

American League President Joe Cronin said Lopez was selected because Yogi Berra, who managed New York to the league pennant last year and who would have automatically been the All-Star manager, is no longer in the league.

Lopez, patriarch of league managers with 14 years of managerial experience, guided the White Sox to a second-place finish last year.

This will be the fourth All-Star Game for Lopez as a manger. His teams lost three previous encounters with their National League counterparts.

"I feel that Lopez earned the honor through his outstanding performance with the White Sox last season, as well as in recognition of his distinguished career as an American League manager," Cronin said in making the selection.

This marks the second year in a row that Lopez has been the All-Star manger through succession. Last year, he moved into the post because Ralph Houk, who had managed New York to the pennant in 1963, vacated the manager's desk for the role of general manager of the Yankees.

Aside from last year, Lopez piloted the All-Stars in 1955 and 1960. He earned those honors when Cleveland won the pennant under his direction in 1954 and Chicago took the flag in 1959.

American League players will vote on the eight starting players, exclusive of pitchers. Lopez will name all the pitchers, as well as batting practice pitchers and catchers, coaches and trainers.

San Anselmo Lad Gains In Berkley Net Tourney

Mark Vance of San Anselmo advanced yesterday to the quarterfinal round in the Boys 16 division of the Pacific Coast International Junior Tennis Tourney at the Berkeley Tennis Club by defeating Jeff Rieser of Orinda 6-2, 6-3.

Mike Machette of Belvedere, the only other Marin player left in the singles competition, fell yesterday in boys 14 action to John Clancy of Pebble Beach 6-1, 2-6, 8-6. He and Bruce Kellock of Richmond, who last week won the Boys 14 doubles title in the Del Norte tournament in Sacramento, will try for two in a row starting today in Berkeley.

NFL Expansion Meeting Monday

NEW YORK (AP) — National Football League club owners will discuss expansion to Atlanta at a Monday meeting called today by Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

Rozelle, with the Atlanta Stadium Authority asking for a decision by July 1, said he had sent the club owners considerable information on the Southern city within the last two weeks.

The rival American Football League already has voted to expand to Atlanta in 1966.

ACE TOURNEY WILL BENEFIT LI'L LEAGUE

The San Rafael National Little League will be the major beneficiary of a hole-in-one contest at Peacock Gap Country Club Saturday and Sunday, but a rich prize list guarantees that there will be lots of winners besides the young ballplayers.

Prizes are still being lined up, but already a weekend at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas awaits one winner and two nights at the Red Carpet Motel at Lake Tahoe will go to another. Clothing, golf balls, watches and many other awards will be handed out.

Entrants may hit three balls for $1, proceeds going to the Little League. The contest starts at 9 a.m. each day.

Sammy Baugh To Coach In New League

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Sponsors of a proposed Tulsa entry in the professional Continental Football League said, today that Sammy Baugh, former Washington Redkins quarterback, has signed a five-year contract to coach the team.

Bill Shortte, a Tulsa insurance man acting as spokesman for the Tulsa Sports Association, said Baugh will receive $50,000 a year as the Tulsa head coach.

Baugh resigned Dec. 18 as an assistant coach of the Houston Oilers of the American Football League. He was present today at a news conference announcing his selection.

The Tulsa team expects approval of a franchise application in the 10-team Continental League within the next 30 days, Shortte said. This would allow Tulsa's admission at the start of the 1966 season.

Shortte said an agreement has been reached with Tulsa University to permit the professional team to play in the university's Skelly Stadium, which is being expanded to seat 40,000 persons.

Dem Bums Steal It From Giants

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The injury-riddled Los Angeles Dodgers were thankful today that they had an old pro like Jim Gilliam around in a tight situation.

The veteran who was brought back from the coaching ranks as an active player less than three weeks ago twice singled home Maury Wills from second last night to give the Dodgers both of their runs in a 2-1 win over the San Francisco Giants.

"We got a pretty good game out of my captain, Maury Wills, and coach Gilliam," manager Walt Alston grinned after the tense contest. "They accounted for all the runs—both of them—and got five out of our seven hits."

And pitcher Sandy Koufax was just as thankful for their efforts which helped bring him his 10th victory of the season that increased the Dodgers' lead over second place Milwaukee to 3½ games.

All the tenseness associated with the meeting of two old and traditional rivals existed as Koufax and Bob Shaw engaged in a stirring pitching duel.

Koufax had lost three straight to the Giants since his last win over them in August, 1963.

In taking the loss, Shaw bitterly rejected any insinuations that he attempted to throw a spitball. A half-dozen or more times in the game the umpires examined the ball at the request of Dodger hitters.

"Umpire Ken Burkhart came over to me once and said he didn't want me to spit on the ball, which I wasn't doing anyway," Shaw snapped.

And plate umpire Lee Weyer, who called for the ball when asked by Los Angeles batters, admitted it was dry when he looked at it.

But the key to the game was Wills' ability to steal second. Both times he got on base, in the fifth and seventh innings, he was able to steal and put himself in scoring position, with Gilliam providing the punch with singles to send him home. His two steals gave him 41 for the season, putting him 16 games ahead of 1962 when he stole 104 bases.

With Wills on first, pitcher Shaw, Gilliam and Wills engaged in a war of nerves. Each time Shaw tried in vain to hold Wills on the base but the little shortstop was able to steal second.

"Shaw tried to quick pitch me after he would throw to first base to hold Maury on" Gilliam commented. "I told Weyer he wasn't letting me get set in the box before pitching and the umpire warned him. It's my job to let the runner get back on base and get set for the pitch. Shaw wanted to get me at a disadvantage."

But the Giants hurler had another version of the situation. He declared that every time he got set on the mound Gilliam would back out.

"It's his prerogative to step out, but it's mine to get set when I want," Shaw declared.

The Giants and Dodgers close out the series tonight after each team had won a 2-1 victory. For the final game, Claude Osteen, 5-6, opposes Gaylord Perry, 6-5.

WILL THE REAL MICKY MANTLE STAND UP?

He won't here at the Chandler Baseball Camp in Chandler, Okla., but perhaps a career as brilliant as Mickey Mantle's awaits one of these boys. They all wanted to wear the number seven uniform that the Mick has played in as a New York Yankee since 1951 after leaving his native Oklahoma, so camp officials Dusty Eby and Bo Belcher secured enough for all. Subversion Charge In Track Squabble

BERKELEY (AP) — The two opposing factions in U.S. amateur track, possibly moving toward a settlement, must face charges of subversion as the newest threat to peace.

A meeting of track coaches yesterday, on the eve of the opening of the National Collegiate Athletic Association championships, heard a report that an Amateur Athletic Union athlete was trying to lure collegians to San Diego for the AAU championships at the end of next week.

Earlier yesterday, AAU President Clifford Buck said in Denver that the NCAA has been invited to name three representatives to the committee for the AAU meet.

The NCAA faces mass defections for this meet because it will determine which athletes go to the U.S.-Russian meet in Kiev and on to other European events.

DUAL SANCTIONING

NCAA President Everett Barnes, athletic director at Colgate, replied in a telegram to Buck that neither accepted nor rejected the offer. It did indirectly ask for dual sanctioning of the AAU meet, a standard request made by the NCAA-backed United States Track and Field Federation.

"They are actually recruiting, Air Force Coach Jim Ball told the college coaches about the AAU infiltrator at Berkeley. "Our athletes are being asked to defy their own college policy.

"If we are going to make a stand, then let's make it now," said Ball.

Stanford has told its athletes they can compete in San Diego without losing athletic scholarships. A few University of California athletes reportedly are anxious to compete because their retiring coach, Brutus Hamilton, is going to coach the U.S. team that faces the Russians.

Wiles Hallock, public relations director for the NCAA, said the organization is "exerting every effort to persuade the AAU that cooperative sanctioning is the reasonable position," including for the AAU championships.

But, Hallock warned, that if an athlete competes in a meet not certified by the NCAA, his school becomes in violation of NCAA rules once the athlete becomes an eligible member of the school track team.

Hallock added that the NCAA infractions committee could then take immediate action against the school if it feels the institution has deliberately violated NCAA rules.

CAL AGAIN HOST

No Favorites In NCAA Trackfest

BERKELEY (AP) — Nobody mentioned the word "favorite" much today as the National Collegiate Athletic Association's track and field championships opened at California's Edwards Field.

There were nearly 500 athletes on hand representing more than 125 colleges and no team or individual could be considered an out-and-out choice to win.

This included the six defending champions from 1964 who are back seeking additional laurels: Morgan Groth from Oregon State in the mile, hammer thrower Alex Schulten of Bowdoin, John Uelses of LaSalle in the pole vault, Larry Kennedy from New Mexico in the discus, Tom Farrell of St. John's in the 880 and the California mile relay team.

New Mexico, Brigham Young, San Jose State, Villanova, Maryland, Southern California, California, Oregon State, Stanford and defending titlist Oregon all could take the team championship.

There was not even assurance the winner would come from among those 10, as most of the experts felt the winning score would be the lowest since Southern California took the crown with 42 in 1955.

Today's schedule was largely limited to qualifying trials with only one final — the six mile run. Tomorrow there will be finalss in the hammer throw, broad jump, shot put, steeplechase, 100 and high hurdles with all other finals on the 20-event slate on Saturday.

Starting times today and Friday are in mid-afternoon with the Saturday program opening at 11:30 a.m.

California Coach Brutus Hamilton retires after this meet, which his school hosts, but will serve as head coach for the United States men's team which competes against the USSR in Russia this summer.

Clarke Sets New Record, Eyes Another

TURKU, Finland (AP) — Ron Clarke, the touring Australian runner, hopes to set his second world record in three days at Tampere tomorrow.

Clarke lowered his own world record for 10,000 meters with a 28:14 here last night. His goal at Tampere is to better his 5,000-meter world record of 13:25.8 which he made at the Compton Relays in Los Angeles June 5.

The 6-foot Aussie ran the 10,000 meters faster by 1.6 seconds than he has ever done. His previous record time was 28:15.6. He finished far ahead of three Finland runners, Matti Utriainen who finished second with a 30:26.4, Dimo Saloranta with a 30:15.8 and Pentti Rummakko with a 31:31.8.

"I did not feel quite all right throughout the race," he said surprisingly. "I believe I felt a bit sick because of the flight across the Atlantic from the U.S. Anyway, I hope to be quite fit again and make a good 5,000-meter race in Tampere Friday."

Clarke started fast in the 10,000 meters and passed the 4,000 meter mark at 11:10.6. He passed the 5,000 meters at 14:92. It was 25:32.6 at 9,000 meters with Clarke putting on a finishing kick for the record.

Clarke ran the 10,000 meters on the track where Paavo Nurmi, famed Finnish runner of 40 years ago, set many of his world marks and where John Landy, another Australian, set the then world record for the mile of 3:58 in June, 1954.

Schollander Is Upset By German

WUERZBURG, Germany (AP) —Don Schollander, a Yale University freshman who won four swimming gold medals at the 1964 Tokyo Olympic Games was beaten by Germany's Hans Joachim Klein in a thrilling 100-meter freestyle race last night.

Kliein, who was third in the Olympic 100-meter freestyle final, trailed Schollander by a few inches after the first 50 meters. When the Lake Oswego, Ore., swimmer faltered slightly after the turn, Klein pushed ahead and won the race in 54.3 seconds. Schollander was second in 54.9.

THE FEMININE TOUCH

Grunt 'n' Groaners Score Big Hit With The Ladies

By NANCY EATON

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The excitement was too much for the lady spectator who watched the lunging, leaping wrestlers throw each other to the floor with ring-rattling thumps. She had a heart attack.

Worried arena officials gathered around as she lay struggling for breath. Was there anything they could do?

"Get me two tickets for the next match," the woman gasped, then passed out. Two weeks later, she was back.

The story, a legend in New Haven, may not be true, but it could be. Uncounted numbers of lady wrestling fans wouldn't miss a match, as one put it, "for all the money in New Haven"-or Des Moines, or Abilene or Seattle.

The farmers' wives, the housewives, the widows, the young, the old, the middle-aged, the well dressed the shabby, come to as many matches as they can.

The regulars all know each other, and between bouts they talk about their husbands and their children and what they've been doing since the last time.

Some sit way back in the bleachers with their husbands and friends. Some crowd as close as they can get to the raised and spotlighted ring, seen through a haze of cigarette smoke. There their boos, their hisses and their cheers can jangle the eardrums of the combatants stalking above them.

The ladies have their favorites, and it's obvious who he is as soon as the graceful hulks leave the wings and start picking their way toward the ring through the folding chairs on the floor of the arena.

TOOTHLESS GAL

At the New Haven arena, a toothless old woman with frizzled grey hair watches the wrestlers come in. She jumps from her seat, only three rows back from the front, races to the ringside and strains to touch "Apollo," the favorite, on the calf.

Physical contact made, she comes back, bouncing with excitement, and points a crooked finger toward her hero. "He's my boy," she says. Then she points to his foe. "That's the one I want to get killed."

"Ya dirty pig," she shrieks at him.

A carefully turned out Negro girl tells about belonging to the favorite's fan club. She had been away and had just arrived back in town. She came straight over to the arena for the wrestling.

When the favortie wins, Mrs. Teresa Key of New Haven, "64 and going on 65," sits down again. Like almost everyone else, she's been on her feet match after match, cheering, shouting insults and encouragement.

"I'll be so hoarse tomorrow I won't be able to talk," she says.

"I knew he was going to win even before he came in, and I didn't think he would get hurt," she says. Not that it was fixed. "This is straight because you can see it."

"The ones that win win because they're honest and they're clean. I stand up for the best one."

As the evening wears on, screeches of "ya yellow belly," "kill him," "dirty pig," become more frequent, hitting their peak during the last match on the card.

It pits two three-men teams. One of the teams is reported to weigh a total of more than a thousand pounds, and looks like it probably does. The ring seems to quiver under the combined weight of the wrestlers and the decibel level of the voiecs.

A young woman, almost elegantly dressed in evening slacks and sweater and as carefully coiffed and made up as if she were going to a formal dance has been sitting quietly and almost without expression until now.

But the six-man bout has her standing on her chair, just as excited and loud as everyone else.

Afterwards, she points out that the six-man matches have to be on the level even if the others aren't.

Mrs. Jean Davis and Mrs. Yvonne Fisher, both young married women, came from Bristol, about an hour's drive from New Haven, for the match.

HUBBY HOME

They have been at almost every match during the last several years. Both have children. Their husbands stay home and babysit.

Mrs. Davis says she comes because "it's exciting, and I love it."

Mrs. Fisher rushes off when the final bout is done to try to get the wrestlers' autographs.

Mrs. Key, wearing a gold pin that spells out "Mother" on her black dress, says she hasn't missed a match since her husband first brought her about three years ago. But he won't sit with her any more. "I embarrass him," she says.

She tries to explain the lure of wrestling. "It keeps me alive and keeps me going," she says. "Why, my weight went from 189 to 132 after I started going."

Landauer is one of seven Americans on the Board of International Refrees of the World Federation of Soccer. This is his first year on that body. He was a linesman in the game June 2 at Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, between Nottingham, England, and Hannover, Germany.

WANTED: SUMMER TENANT

Oakland's beautiful stadium complex will be ready for major league baseball in 1967, but no one knows if major league baseball will be ready for it. The Oakland Raiders of the American Football League will be happy to move to the new Coliseum, which will seat 52,000 for their games and 48,000 for baseball; but Robert T. Nahas, president of Coliseum, Inc., has no commitment from a big league baseball club. He reports "lots of encouragement from all American League owners," however. (UPI Telephoto)

A SPECTACULAR JOB

Busy Fish-Game Planes

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — One of the busiest airlines in the country—three planes and four pilots strong—is the one operated by the state department of fish and game.

Probably the biggest single job—at least the most spectacular one—is the planting of high mountain lakes with fingerling trout. The department has a twin-engine Beechcraft and two Cessno Sky Lanes (182) but the Beechcraft is used in the fish planting.

When the high altitude lakes open us, the planting season begins—on about July 5 this year. By Labor Day, the pilots will have fish in more than 800 lakes.

The record planting was 76 different lakes in one morning, which is quite a bit of traveling around. The plane lands at airports nearest the hatcheries and the fish are brought in five-gallon cans, marked with the name of the lake for which they're scheduled. By use of tranquilizer drugs, the fingerlings are packed into the cans about like sardines—up to 3,500 fish per can.

We've ridden in the Beechcraft and one of the Cessnas and have watched several lakes being planted but somehow, every time we've been invited to make one of the trips darting in and out of the mountain peaks and down through the trees, we've been able to find something else more pressing to do.

Most of the programs of the department's little air force have been developed by Senior Warden-Pilot Al Reese, who'll be retiring this fall after 20 years with the department. The newcomers under Reese are Carroll Face, with 16 years, Patrick Symons, with 15, and Leo Singer with 14 years. Symons is based in San Bernardino County with one of the Cessnas. Reese said he stopped counting his flying hours after 10,000.

Originally, the first plane was purchased for patrol work, and this work still takes up much of the time of the aircraft. The patrol planes locate the concentrations of hunters and inform the wardens on the ground. Patrol work also is done over the ocean.

Among some of the other tasks performed are: Counting antelope, deer and waterfowl, sometimes for population and sometimes for herd composition.

"We fly pretty low when we're counting antelope herd composition," Singer said. "We have to get right down among them so we can tell the bucks from the does."

Singer mentioned this one day when we were skimming over the tree tops to inspect some work along a stream bank which was muddying the water. We took his word for it.

The planes are used to treat some lakes with the chemicals which kill rough fish, take salmon inventories, drop salt for wildlife, occasionally drop feed to wildlife, and count sea lions, seals, and otters in the ocean.

All three planes, of course, are used often for moving personnel. The Beechcraft fish-planting tank can be removed and five seats moved in for such flights.

Over the years, other projects have been tried. At one time, pheasants were dropped from planes. The pheasants weren't harmed but too many hunters were waiting to shoot them before they hit the ground.

Have Stripers Gone On Strike? Sturgeon Keep Anglers Active

STEVENS

Do you think striped bass have feelings? And, if so, do you think maybe we have hurt their feelings? Whatever the cause, they are staying away from the San Pablo Bay and most other local waters in large numbers. We have spent so much time reporting the activities of the sturgeon that it now has become headline news when someone hooks, plays and lands a striper.

The flurry of striper action off the south side of the Golden Gate Bridge, as well as the slight flurry of the Rock Pile, Alcatraz and the Racoon Strait, seems to have gone on strike. Whether those season-openers have scattered on their way upstream is a moot question. If so, surely some of them would have been taken.

BUT, AS one of my reporters said, "It's a darned good thing that we have sturgeon to fall back on for business," And that's a fact. Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina called as usual to give his report on Monday. Apparently the small-boat contingent has gotten into the act. On Saturday last, Carl reported 19 sturgeon taken by skiff fishermen at and behind the Rock Wall across from Rodeo. On Sunday only one of the big fish was taken from a skiff, but 20 were boated on party boats.

CARL BENNETT'S records mentioned that Harry Blair on the Mikie B with a couple of friends took limits of sturgeon to 70 pounds. In three days effort, 11 sturgeon were boated for the 12 rods working. The Two Dares working as a twice-a-day boat took five fish on the a.m. trip and six on the afternoon trip. On Monday a lad in a hurry landed his sturgeon after 45 minutes of fishing. A Freemont trio, Ed Sherer, Chuck Franklin and Guy Sachs took a sturgeon each on Saturday morning, Fred Austen of South County hauled in a 30 pounder, and Les Hall with two buddies boated a sturgeon apiece from aboard the Mickie B.

A FEW BASS were taken by trollers working the Union Oil Wharf, and three men in a boat trolled the waters between the Radar Screen and the wharf and landed three bass.

WHEN A STURGEON is hungry he will take a grass shrimp in almost any area. Nadine Lesley of Dowrelio's Crockett Harbor reported Charles Schmelz hooking and landing a 53 pound sturgeon from the pier. Nadine also reported that the several parties who were supposed to scout out the late bass trolling, made only short drives after bass and then insisted on trying for sturgeon. Johnny Sivera will give bass trolling a thorough try in the late afternoon this week. We might hear some encouraging news.

AS YOU probably have noted we are are in the grip of another series of minus tides, but by the end of the week I would guess that bass trolling will be heard from, and here's hoping we do hear good news.

Bridal Picture—Practicality

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Today's bride wants the glamour of a train trailing as she walks down the aisle.

But she also selects the gown with train with a practical eye — about 50 per cent of gowns have detachable trains so the wedding dress can be worn later for other formal occasions.

Langer said the ballerina length wedding dress popular for several seasons, now is a very small portion of the bridal business—"I'd say about two or three per cent," he said.

WEDDING DRESS styles follow to a degree general fashion trends, he said. The result most of the current dresses have easy lines, and are of smooth, flowing fabrics. The peau silks have replaced the satins, he said, and the synthetics are cutting in. Rayon organza, for instance, is a summer favorite.

"FOR A WHILE," he said, "we had blush pinks and ice blues, but they just didn't last." He said the mantilla is moving up in competition with the bridal cap and veil and some manufacturers feature them long as trains or cathedral length. Others are elbow, fingertip and floor length.

One fact of wedding fashions which rarely changes is the neckline. Scoop is permitted, Langer said, but no plunge. And most of the gowns cover the shoulders—in keeping with

Marin Debutantes To Help At Golf Club Tournament

Charity as well as social events will have its place on the datebooks of the Marin debutantes this weekend.

Assisting the Marin Assn. for Mental Health, a group of the girls will be stationed at the first hole at Peacock Gap Golf Club Saturday and Sunday to sell entries to the "Beat Billy Casper" tournament.

Proceeds from the tournament, which will end June 26, will benefit Mental Health Assn.

Dinner Will Honor Ross Valley Group

The fifth annual Arvey awards dinner dance of the Ross Valley Players will be held Saturday night at Peacock Gap Country Club, with about 150 guests expected to attend the black tie affair.

The dinner will honor the Players with Arvey statuettes—which are symbolic of excellence on stage and behind the scenes. Although the awards are named with tongue-in-cheek humor, they are seriously presented and received.

The evening will climax a year's work by the Ross Valley Players, who are celebrating their 35th year of existence. Sydney Dorn is chairman of the evening.

Arvey awards will be presented in the following catagories: best actor, best actress, best supporting actor, best supporting actress, best bit player, outstanding production achievement, and special recognition award. The coveted "Larry Lovett Award" will also be presented to the most valuable non-acting Player.

South Sea Islands Beckon To Vacationing Marinites

By MOLLY MARIN

Recently home after a three week trip to the South Seas are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald D. Stratford of the Belvedere Lagoon. The Stratfords traveled to Bora Bora aboard the Monterey and left the ship to visit Tahiti for several days and spent one day on the Island of Moorea. In Tahiti they boarded a jet to Hawaii, where they spent several days. Their trip home was aboard the Lurline. The Stratfords made the trip with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leps of Atherton.

BACK IN MARIN after a two week wedding trip to Hawaii are Mr. and Mrs. Alex E. Jean, who exchanged vows at a ceremony for family members only at St. Cecilia's Church in San Francisco on May 29. The new Mrs. Jean is the former Mrs. Paul McArdle of Fairfax, whose daughter, Mrs. Thomas Rolleri Jr. lives in Alameda. The Rev. Paul Harney of University of San Francisco officiated at the wedding, for which the couple was attended by Thomas Rolleri Jr. and Jacqueline Jean, daughter of the bridegroom. Guests were Mr. Jean's family and members of the McArdle family.

During their stay at the Kahala Hilton in Honolulu the couple was entertained by the Don Flemings, formerly of Marin and the Arthur Allen and they visited with many visiting Marinites.

Mr. Jean, who has a home in San Francisco, is an executive with the Tuttle Cheese Co. in Oakland. The couple plans to live in Marin.

SEVERAL DINNER PARTIES honoring Mrs. Stuart Rogers of Tiburon on her forthcoming trip to Australia and the South Sea Islands are planned by friends in the Bay Area. Dr. and Mrs. Otto Pfleuger hosted a party on Saturday in their Belvedere home. Also planning bon voyage dinners are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jorgensen of Burlingame on Saturday and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Fulmer of San Francisco on Sunday. Mrs. Rogers will sail on board the Monterey June 24 to Los Angeles where she will join friends for the two month trip to seven islands including Tahiti and the Hawaiian Islands.

CORINTHIAN YACHT CLUB women will meet tomorrow for their last luncheon before the summer break at the Tiburon clubhouse. After the Auxiliary luncheon, members and guests will play cards and dominoes. Hospitality chairman Mrs. David Benson will have Mrs. Frank Colvan and Mrs. David Sederquist as her guests. Included in the party of Mrs. Arnold Masneri are Mesdames Charles Dornbach, Julia Davis and L. B. Frisbie.

A QUIET REVOLT?

The Rev. Joyce Black officiated at the double ring ceremony in which the bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Boyd of Battle Mountain, was escorted to the altar by her father. She recited her vows wearing a full length white satin gown with chantilly lace applique and train.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Jack Derrick of Dumas, Tex., was matron of honor in a pink linen suit. Joyce's niece and nephew, Theresa Lynn and Randall Derrick were ringbearers.

Roger Hermsmeyer of San Anselmo acted as best man and ushering were Russell Ketron of San Rafael and Bruce Ketron of San Anselmo, brothers of the bridegroom.

The bride received IBM training in Philadelphia and is employed at the Nevada Bank of Commerce in Battle Mountain. Her brothers are Ensign Gerald Boyd and Conrad Boyd, both of the U.S. Navy and Horace Boyd of Dumas.

He is working as a mining engineer in Battle Mountain where the couple will make their home.

Mrs. John J. Wiley Elected To Head St. Stephen's Guild

New presdent of St. Stephen's Guild is Mrs. John J. Wiley of Belvedere.

Mrs. Wiley is a former vice president of the guild and was co-chairman of this year's Belvedere house tour, which retiring president, Mrs. Dickerson McAfee called "the most successful tour ever."

The new president's other activities include vice-presidency of the Marin Foundation, and secretary and member of the board of directors of the Belvedere Tennis Club.

A graduate of the University of California, Corinne is a member of Chi Omega sorority. She had an interesting career as interior decorator, where her work included decorating homes, apartments, and commercial establishments.

FASHIONS FOR BRIDE

VARIOUS INDUSTRY sources say the whole bridal business is big business—about $4 billion per year. Of this, Langer said, wedding dress manufacturers take between $125 to $150 million annually.

Shopping for the dress for the big day can be confusing. To aid the bride, a trade publication, "Bridal Wear," has compiled a glossary of terms heard around the wedding gown departments.

Some of the:

Angel skin—dull, waxy and smooth finish given to certain fabrics such as laces, satins, etc. Also called peau d'ange.

GUIPURE—Lace made with no ground or having designs joined by coarse threads or bars.

LOVER'S KNOT—Ornamental bow, symbolizing constancy of love, made with two or more ribbons or cords intertwined in loops. Used in today's bridal gowns as lace patterns or appliques.

Fashions Aid In Slimming

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dress designers are playing an important role in fighting overweight in women, according to Dr. Thomas Hanley, of Guy's Hospital, London.

"Fashion is a hard but effective taskmaster," he said.

"Most women who consult a doctor about obesity do so because they feel unsightly or ugly or have difficulty getting into their clothes. I'd say we're all better off because the designers have decreed that Rubens' 'Venus' is no longer to be considered the ideal feminine fashion form."

ATTENTION GAMBLERS

WAREHOUSE CARPET SALE

DEAR READER:

The following schedule of events will take place Saturday June 19th, 1965, starting at 9:00 A.M. at Bay Area Contract Carpet Co.

9:00 AM until 11:00 AM:	Our entire stock of fine carpets will go on sale at $7.95 per square yard
11:00 AM until 1:00 PM:	Our entire stock of fine carpets will go on sale at $6.95 per square yard
1:00 PM until 3:00 PM:	Our entire stock of fine carpets will go on sale at $5.95 per square yard
3:00 PM until 5:00 PM:	Our entire stock of fine carpets will go on sale at $4.95 per square yard
5:00 PM until 7:00 PM:	Our entire stock of fine carpets will go on sale at $3.95 per square yard

Thousands of yards available, choose from representative rolls, especially shipped in from our main office in San Carlos, Calif.

Now, we at Bay Area Contract Carpet Co. realize that we are playing a form of Russian Roulette in offering to put on a spectacular carpet sale such as this, as it is obviously possible that we could be forced to sell our entire stock of carpets at $3.95 per sq. yd.

If this happened we would lose an enormous amount of money. It's as simple as that.

However, we also realize that at least 90% of our carpets on hand are real bargains at our starting price of $7.95 per sq. yd. and many are worth double that figure. It is for this reason that we urge those of you who have been looking for a chance to buy a top quality carpet at a reasonable price to come early, select your carpet from the choicest of the choice, and help us to average this offer out.

Also, because of the unusual aspects of this sale the following rules will be followed without exception:

1. All sales will be final and must be accompanied by a substantial down payment.

2. An electric clock will be in plain view at all times and set with telephone time and the price changes listed above will occur exactly and only on schedule.

3. Any prospective customer may select a carpet and wait as long as he or she desires in anticipation of a lower price, but we positively will sell all merchandise on a "first come first served" basis so—GAMBLERS BEWARE!

BAY AREA CONTRACT CARPET CO.

Experts Find Marin Has Its 'Geologic Hazards'

Marin County has its share of "geologic hazards," according to the Northern California Geological Society.

In a press release warning of hazardous geological conditions, the society did not specify Marin, but listed three types of hazardous area, all of which can be found in Marin.

The areas of hazards are those that are most vulnerable to earthquake and landslide damage than other areas, the society reported.

The reclaimed areas, marsh and tidelands of San Francisco Bay and active fault areas are geologic hazards in the event of earthquakes.

Marin with its extensive shoreline has both bay fill and bay tidelands, and the San Andreas Fault traverses the county.

The society listed "areas of unconsolidated natural and man-made fill on hillsides" as hazardous from the standpoint of landslides.

Such hillside areas are susceptible to water saturation and prone to landslide triggered by earthquake shock or heavy rains or both, the society reported.

Local geological conditions that could lead to undue public hazards from earthquake and landslide damage are not always taken into account in building and planning in the Bay Area, reported William L. Effinger, society president.

Construction in these geologically hazardous areas should be designed to compensate for the hazards "and to minimize potential loss and damage to structure and danger to life," the society reported.

Planning and construction agencies, engineers and architects and public agencies responsible for public health, safety and welfare should consider earthquake resistant design and enforce safety in construction, it recommended.

The group also recommended that "geologists take an active professional part in Bay Area planning commissions and hearings where and when the knowledge of geological conditions could render service to the community."

The society's statement was released after a study by its committee on geologic and earthquake hazards.

The committee concluded that areas of geologic hazard "should be publicly recognized and that owners and occupants should be made aware of such hazards."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New Treatment Can Help Those With Large, Ugly Keloid Scars

VAN DELLEN

A. J. writes: "Last summer my arm was cut in an auto accident. A large, ugly scar formed, which was removed surgically. The wound healed, but the second scare is almost as bad as the first. The doctor called it a keloid and said it will reform if it is removed again. It is so noticeable when I wear a swimming suit or formal dress. Can something be done?" A new remedy for keloids may help this woman.

Keliods are scars that have gone haywire by growing and spreading to the immediate surrounding area. These usually protrude above the skin surface and are hard, shiny, and smooth, except for the borders that extend outword like a claw or fringe. In this respect, the lesions resemble tumors. Some people are especially prone to keloid formation and the scar follows almost any injury, including bruises, cuts, tattooing, insect bites, vaccinations, or piercing of the lobes for earrings.

SCARS FROM smallpox, shingles, and acne may turn into keloids. Some of the largest are associated with burns, particularly when the area about the joints, mouth, eyes, or neck are involved. Defects occur more often in the young, and in the Negro and Oriental.

There are many remedies but the results are unpredictable and not always perfect. There is no need for treatment when the growth does not show or is unimportant. In the past, the keloid was irradiated with X-ray or thorium X. Freezing with solid carbon dioxide. The newer plans include surgical removal, followed by injection of an enzyme, or a cortisone-like hormone, into the scar as it develops. These products are used to discourage overgrowth of scar tissue.

THE LATEST remedy is removal of the keloid followed by the application of triethlenethiophosphoramide to the new scar. This product discourages the multiplication of cells and is used to reduce the size of various tumors. A New York City plastic surgeon used it on three patients with encouraging results.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ENLARGED BONES

F. D. C. writes: Is there any effective treatment for acromegaly?

REPLY

Yes. Individuals with this condition have overactive cells in a certain part of the pituitary gland. This results in an increase in growth hormones leading to enlargement of hands, feet, face, and head. The results of treatment depend upon the ability of the physician to arrest the activity of the enlarged tumor.

OTHER CAUSES

R. U. writes: I have a strange feeling in my right breast and wonder if it could be cancer?

REPLY

Cancer of the breast rarely produces symtoms until well advanced. The sensation you describe may come from tension on the ligaments that hold up the breast. If you are in doubt, why not see your physician?

EPIGASTRIUM

J. B. Writes: What is the function of the epigastrium or muscles of the epigastrium?

REPLY

The epigastrium is the upper central region of the abdomen (pit of stomach). It is part of the abdominal wall that incloses the gastro intestinal organs.

TIRED

Mrs. S. writes: Is it unusual to have pain in both breasts and a tired achy feeling in the back after the birth of a baby? The baby is five months old.

REPLY

Two High School Boys Due At Legion's Boys State

Two high school boys will attend the American Legion Boys State in Sacramento for a week, beginning Saturday, sponsored by Wilkins Post 37, San Rafael.

Selected on the basis of high scholastic achievement and extra-curricular activities were Charles Burch, 16, a Marin Catholic High School junior, and Jeff Greenberg, 17, a Terra Linda High junior.

More than 800 boys from California high schools will attend the Boys State, part of a youth in government program sponsored by the legion to educate youth in the duties, rights and responsibilities of citizenship.

Both Burch and Greenberg plan to study medicine.

Burch is a member of the Science club and the Block "M", has been president of his class two years and member of the California Scholastic Federation and student council. He was a member of the basketball and baseball team at school, and now plays baseball for the Wilkins team.

Greenberg hopes to attend Stanford University. He has been active in athletics, and earned his letter in track, cross-country and discus throwing. A clarinet player, he has twice been chosen for the California Statewide Honor Band. He was chosen "outstanding junior" of Terra Linda High and received the book award of the Harvard Club of San Francisco. He has been president of his class twice, a California Scholastic Federation member, and president of the Junior Service Honorary Society.

Budget Sessions Set For Recreation Board

Directors of the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District will meet at the Community Center Wednesday at 8 p.m. and again June 30 at 8 p.m. for budget review, said Jack Brandon, chairman of the board.

The regular meeting last night was cancelled due to the need for budget sessions, he said.

Presbyterian Group To Elect

The recently organized Presbyterian Men of Marin will elect officers tomorrow at a 12:10 p.m. luncheon in the San Rafael Elks Club, during the final meeting until September.

Guest speaker will be Dr. J. Hudson Ballard, professor emeritus in pastoral psychology at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo.

Terra Linda Plunge Schedule Resumed

The swimming program sponsored by the Terra Linda Recreation and Parks District will go back on regular schedule Saturday with completion of repairs.

The pool was closed last week to repair plumbing damage which occurred when the pool was being drained for cleaning last month, Jack Brandon, chairman of the district board, said.

Kettenhofen Wonders About Bailiff Need

Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen yesterday challenged the constant need for a bailiff in a courtroom.

He conceded there were many times when a bailiff should be in court, but wondered about the economics of having a man sitting in court day after day on "humdrum" civil cases.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanous said the judges want a bailiff present and it is in keeping with tradition.

The debate arose during discussion of the sheriff's proposed budget for fiscal 1966. The budget for the jail division included addition of a sixth bailiff. There are seven courts.

However, supervisors decided to continue with the six as recommended and request judges to excuse bailiffs from duty whenever they thought it appropriate.

The board adopted the main sheriff budget of $580,963, up from the current year's $545,467; a $92,135 civil division budget, up from the current $50,530, and a $195,100 jail budget, up from the current $169,730.

The combined budgets will provide an increase in staff from 89 to 96. Five of these will be in the civil division and two in the jail division, including the additional bailiff.

But Does It Work?

One day a mountaineer came in and while talking with Carpenter noticed his condition and suggested a remedy.

Two Jobs Interwoven

DELAVAN, Wis. (AP) — Davin Tomko, the 30-year-old, six foot, 203 pound night patrolman on the Delavan police force, plays another major role in this southern Wisconsin community.

He is pastor of Emmanuel Christian Assembly Church.

"My work is interwoven," Tomko explained. "They run together in many cases. As a result of my police work, I meet new people, which I can understand better and help more because of my outlook from a pastoral iewpoint."

Tomko, married and the father of three children, works four nights on the 9 p.m. to 5 a.m. shift, two nights from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. and then has two days off. Some weeks he has only a short nap between police duties and the pulpit.

He said he considers police work a "challenge, because I like people, and that's what this work is."

Weaver, Metalsmith To Teach Classes

Weaver Ida Dean Grae and metalsmith Victor Ries will teach classes in their Mill Valley studios this summer under auspices of the California College of Arts and Crafts in Oakland.

Courses will be beginning and advanced textile design and weaving, taught by Mrs. Grae, and basic design, metalsmithing and jewelry, taught by Ries. Registrations will be taken after Monday at the studios.

Berserk Barber

Hub Summer Recreation Program Being Offered

San Anselmo will offer a city-sponsored summer recreation for all ages for the first time this year, from July 6 to Aug. 27.

Programs which will start July 6 are the men's softball league, adult tennis classes, "slimnastics," youth tennis, youth bowling and senior adult dance classes.

Starting dates for other classes are: Girls' softball program and women's softball league, July 7; teen folk guitar, July 9; children's creative dance and adult folk guitar workshop, July 12 and baton twirling classes, July 19.

The department has scheduled special events during the summer including a city-wide youth costume parade from downtown San Anselmo to Memorial Park July 8; the little world series baseball tournament, midget league, at Memorial Park July 26-28; the Little League world series at Memorial Park July 29-Aug. 7; city-wide pet show at Memorial Park Aug. 12; adult softball invitational tournament, Aug. 8-16; youth Olympics at Sir Francis Drake High School Aug. 19; city-wide novice tennis tournament at Memorial Park tennis courts, Aug. 23-29, and the youth playground awards ceremony, Aug. 26 at the park.

Park and recreation department personnel will supervise activities at Memorial Park, Brookside, Yolansdale and Wade Thomas School playgrounds during the summer.

Mt. Everest Has School

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A school claimed to be the highest in the world has been opened in Nepal—at 17,000 feet altitude on the southern slopes of Mount Everest.

The school is for Tibetan studies and is financed by funds collected by the first conqueror of Everest, Sir Edmund Hillary.

This is the first school of its kind in Nepal, which has accommodated thousands of refugees who fled their "roof-of-the-world" homeland during the Communist Chinese invasion in 1959.

Sir Edmund Hillary, who collected similar funds for starting schools for Gorkha children in the Everest region, was present at the opening.

U.N. Still Offers Best Hope For World Peace

The United Nations, born in San Francisco 20 years ago, will return to its birthplace next week to commemorate its organization.

For the fledgling United Nations, the first 20 years has been a stormy one. The organization has failed to end war. It has failed to reach complete agreement even on such items as payment of dues.

Although World War III has been avoided thus far, the real deterrent may have been the threat of nuclear destruction rather than the workings of the U.N.

Powerful members of the world organization tend to abide by the majority will, only if their national interests are not seriously jeopardized.

In short, a true world government based on decisions by the majority is still a long way from attainment. In fact, some pessimists are ready to toss in the towel, convinced that an effective and practical world government is a lost cause.

But the fact remains that the United Nations, despite its many shortcomings, is the only existing forum through which the nations of the world can even attempt to reach international accord.

This may be the last hope for mankind to attempt to settle world problems through the rule of reason rather than through the mailed fist.

To scrap the United Nations now would be an admission that mankind, whose technological advances have enabled it to probe space and send satellites to the moon and sun, is unable to live peacefully together on its own little planet.

The 114 nations, about twice as many as participated in the U.N. founding in 1945, will be converging on San Francisco for the two-day session, June 24 and 25. The question the diplomats and delegates face is not WHETHER they can learn to get along with each other, but HOW.

There is no longer any question that the peace of the world must be preserved. Any one of the several nuclear nations is capable of destroying the world and all its inhabitants many times over.

The rule of reason must eventually prevail over the rule of power. Only through the rule of reason has mankind any chance for survival. The U.N. still offers the best hope of achieving this.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

There's an old French proverb that runs: "I do not like noise unless I make it myself."

It is reflected in signs, posted in the elevators of a hospital in a New York City suburb, which read:

Needless noise is usually a sign of selfishness, of disregard for the feelings and rights of others.

But "dos" more than "don'ts" are usually needed to stimulate a person to show the same consideration for others that he wishes for himself.

To rise above the weak human tendency toward self-centeredness, each of us must be motivated by deep convictions. By the very nature God gave us we should love others in the same way that God loves us.

Consideration in hospitals and courtesy in general are important. But we should be even more concerned with the great problems that vex mankind. We will do this better if we realize that the Lord wishes us to be instruments of divine love in every phase of life.

"This is My commandment, that you love one another as I have loved you."
(John 15:12)

Thanks to You, O Master, for allowing me to be an instrument of Your love.

Assemblyman Calls Poverty War Muddled Adventure, Fouled Up

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee, R-Salinas, thinks President Lyndon B. Johnson's "war on poverty" program in California has turned into "a muddled adventure, noble in purpose, but abominably fouled up in execution, resembling nothing so much as a basket of eels at the moment."

The assemblyman loosed his blast in a recent news release, which went into detail in criticism of the program he said was founded on the basis of much needed help for the poor and underprivileged people of the country.

"LET'S LOOK first at the administration of the money involved, close to $10 million for California.

"The money is distributed directly from Washington to various cities which have passed certain requirements and whose applications for help have been approved by the Economic Opportunity Board in Washington.

"Nowhere or at no time does the legislative body of the state have any say-so as to where the money is going; what it is being spent for; what state services are being duplicated, or what Tammany Hall-type big city political machines are being financed by money supposedly for the poor."

ASSEMBLYMAN Pattee pointed out California would have to supply only 10 per cent of the program for the first year, but said that what the people of the state fail to realize is that next year, the state will have to match war-on-poverty funds from Washington.

"If the president gets the $1.5 billion he is requesting, the people of California can be assured they will have to come up with 10 to 15 million in the future, still without knowledge of where the money is going.

EMPHASIZING THE fact that the war-on-poverty funds are being spent without legislative control, Pattee said "the governor will tell you that the state does not know where the money is going through the state office of the Economic Development Agency, but that office is operated by a direct appointee of the governor and has nothing to do with the Legislature."

The assemblyman declared that, if the Legislature is going to be called upon to "kick in millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money, we certainly must have control of the spending of that money."

20 YEARS AGO

San Rafael City Council approved installation of parking meters in the business district for a six-month trial period.

The California State Chamber of Commerce reported that retail sales in Marin County increased 94 per cent in a five-year period, from $18.4 million to $35.7 million per year.

A congressional committee was sent to San Francisco to conduct a hearing on the proposal to construct ammunition loading facilities at California Point.

Rodeo Good, Joke Unfunny

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On June 6 my 12-year-old daughter and I went to the Kiwanis Rodeo in Fairfax . . . a yearly event presented by this group to benefit "community services and boys' and girls' work." This is a fine little show and the Kiwanis Club is to be commended for sponsoring the rodeo for such a good cause.

However, as a native daughter who loves the outdoors and horses, and fully appreciates the skill and daring of a rodeo performer, I was appalled at the obscenity and vulgarity of the "jokes" of the so-called clown in the arena. With an audience composed of more children than adults, surely the Kiwanis Club would not wish to sponsor a show for community services and children's work, and at the same time expose them to a clown who twisted a dog's leg until it yelped, and later, in the same bathroom-keyed vein, brandished a toilet seat as a prop in a skit involving children.

Let's hope next year's show will be a little cleaner and more in keeping with great western tradition and the great outdoors, not the back alley!

What Happened To Land Plan?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

An item in the June 10 I-J states that the Freitas family will seek "planned community" zoning for three parcels of land in the Terra Linda area. This is in an area zoned only last January for single-family residential. But at that time Freitas asked that their land be left unzoned, and the request was granted by an unnecessarily indulgent planning commission.

Now the question is, what happened to the offer made by the Freitas family, nearly a year ago, to give some of this land to the city of San Rafael to be used for a park? Specifically the parcel southwest of Devon Dr., a lovely, heavily wooded, hilly area of about 256 acres was to have been the park. This was indeed a generous offer made by the Freitas estate, but what happened to it? Did it get lost in the shuffle? . . .

The Freitas family undoubtedly have a long and notable history to look back upon. They may even have more than pride of ownership, they may have a genuine liking for the landscape as it is and as it was in the early days. It would be a fine thing if they chose to perpetuate their good name in the county by keeping this area for a park in their name.

New Thoreau Needed Now

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Eric Fromm says of the self —"In so far as I am what you want me to be I am not."

In a world of conforming and marginal men salvation increasingly depends on nonconformists with the courage to dispute the bungling and cant of any Establishment that condones napalm destruction of the living earth and the slaughter of human beings in the name of preserving freedom and peace.

Today we need more dissenters like Thoreau and Whitman whose fearless criticism of the national Big Lie proved their greater allegiance.

Smog Article Clarification

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We noted with interest the column "Affairs of State" by Henry MacArthur tonight (June 4) entitled "Lawmakers Take Another Stab at Auto Smog Control Devices."

. . . A few statements need clarification. First, the increased Highway Patrol coverage provided by this bill is incidental to the smog question, and is provided for additional law enforcement, not smog control. Second, the Patrol has been delegated the responsibility for supervising, and revoking licenses of, installation-inspection stations ever since the first passage of such a bill.

We also take exception to Mr. MacArthur's statement that "the safest practice may be to install the smog devices." Safest for whom? Not only have these devices proven to be extremely detrimental to vehicle performance and life, but sufficient proof exists of their part in INCREASING air pollution. . . . Not only do these units miserably fail in this pursuit, but they do, in fact, increase the very pollutants we attempt to eradicate.

In closing MacArthur states: "But it is known that these devices will be of some benefit." The only benefits deriving from such are to those profiting financially. We do agree "it behooves the motorist to do his share" in fighting air pollution. Let's do it the right way by demanding our legislators give us PROPER laws in this field. And by demanding our county be withdrawn from the requirements of this newly passed "stab" at air pollution control. . . .

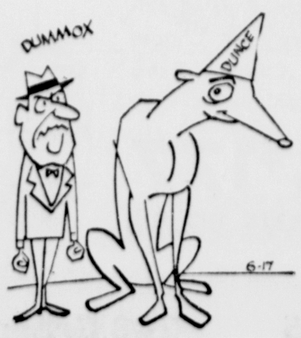
WHEN A racing greyhound develops bad habits, asserts veteran dog trainer, F. B. Stutz, they're usually impossible to correct. He cites the case of an exceptionally fleet greyhound named Terris Foot, who ran in hurdle races and invariably outran the field until the final jump—where he always fell down. His handler decided to enter him in a flat race. Terris Foot went right on jumping and when he reached the spot where the non-existent hurdle would have been—he fell down!



IN DAN Greenberg's lighthearted novel, "How to Be a Jewish Mother," he tells how said mother identified Red Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung: "A lot of improperly cooked vegetables and God knows what kind of meat. We order only the plain rice with a little sauce."

Republicans Remain Peaceful, But Cracks Beginning To Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans still don't sound unanimous or even happy.

Since suffering one of their worst defeats in history in 1964, they have been backing President Lyndon B. Johnson's foreign policy, much to his satisfaction, while remaining rather peaceful themselves and among themselves.

IT WAS NEVER a peace that could last long, in a party divided into as many sharp factions as the Republicans, but even the peace such as it was is beginning to show cracks.

1. Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, one of the top Republicans in the House, warned Johnson "we may be dangerously close to ending any Republican support of our present Viet Nam policy."

Laird is chairman of the GOP Conference Committee.

2. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said his group will continue to "uphold the hands of the president" in Viet Nam, adding: "What else could you do in a situation of this kind?"

3. Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, whom Johnson defeated in the presidential race, in a radio-television interview said he feels Johnson should stop trying to be a general and let the military run the show in Viet Nam.

Goldwater was so forgetful of American history, and certainly of Republican history, that in this same interview he spoke of the party as losing control of Congress in 1946 and winning it in 1948 when it was the reverse that happened.

4. Republican organization leaders took a dim view of the projected formation of a new conservative organization to be headed by Goldwater as honorary chairman.

WHILE JOHNSON has been heckled for his foreign policy, particularly in the academic and artistic world, he has been able to operate with reasonable confidence because of the backing he got in Congress.

True, he has had some individual critics there, but on the whole Republicans lined up with the bulk of Democrats in supporting him.

But if Johnson and his policies begin to come under attack by just House Republicans, for whom Laird seemed to be speaking, his road will take a sour turn, reminiscent of what happed to President Harry Truman in the Korean war.

JOHNSON HAS had an extremely agreeable working relationship with Dirksen, who seems determined that the president must continue to get Republican support in the Senate at least.

Goldwater's view, that Johnson should let the military run the show in Viet Nam, in effect would let the military run American foreign policy in Asia, which is about as extreme a position as Goldwater could take.

But at least the Arizonan is consistent. In the 1964 campaign, after saying Johnson should make it clear the United States will not pull out of Viet Nam, Goldwater said:

"NOW THE NEXT decision becomes based on military decisions. I don't think that's up to a presidential candidate or even the president. I would turn to my Joint Chiefs of Staff and say: 'Fellows, we made the decision to win; now it's your problem.'"

Also in his radio-television interview Goldwater disclosed discussions about formation of the Free Society Assn. to "educate more and more American people to the values of the Republican Party."

Some party leaders deplored the idea and envisioned a swarm of such groups, all seeking financial support from sources the GOP National Committee hopes to tap. But Goldwater said it wouldn't be a third party.

SO, IF THE FSA is formed, there probably would be a wide-swinging intraparty struggle, which is unlikely to help get Republicans elected in 1966.

Thant Pushing U.N. Ousters In Africa

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—U. N. Secretary General U Thant is launching a little-noticed diplomatic offensive to sweep the British and Portuguese out of Africa, and divest South Africa of control over Southwest Africa.

Also there are growing signs he will seek U. N. approval to use military force, if necessary, to accomplish these objectives.

UNDER THANT'S personal direction, members of the special U. N. committee on colonialism are meeting with nationalist and underground leaders in Southwest Africa, Rhodesia, Basutoland, Bechuanaland, Swaziland and Portuguese Africa.

In these private sessions they are obtaining "evidence" and "freedom petitions" to present to the General Assembly this fall to support the proposals being drafted by Thant calling for sterner action against the three major powers.

Jacob Malik, deputy foreign minister and Russia's principal representative at the U. N., and violent critic of U. S.-British policies in Africa.

D. Malachera, Tanzania's U. N. representative and close friend of Communist Chinese leaders. He is the chief advocate of U. N. military intervention in Southwest Africa.

Dr. Giza Gonzales, Venezuela's representative to the U. N. and vigorous opponent of U. S. intervention in the Dominican Republic, who strongly supports sending a U. N. police force to that strife-torn island.

THESE THREE diplomats, acting as spokesmen for Thant's special mission, are touring the continent assuring African leaders "the U. N. will use force to throw out the Portuguese and British, and to end South Africa's control over Southwest Africa."

They are stressing that Thant's strong public opposition to the establishment of an Inter-American police force in the Dominican Republic was a move to protect U. N. right to intervene in Africa.

According to U. S. intelligence authorities, Malik was given full Kremlin endorsement for Thant's plan late last month before going to Africa.

RUSSIA, THOUGH in arrears on U. N. payments, is contributing more than $100,000 to help pay the committee's transportation to Africa. Also, Malik is being accompanied by four "observers," including two members of the KGB (Soviet secret police).

While U. N. officials probably will deny it, studies of the cost of military intervention against South Africa already have been turned over to Thant, and his aides are considering several courses of action.

Prepared by a private U. S. foundation, the reports are so thorough that one forecasts casualties for engagements as long as 105 days. These are estimated between 18,900 and 37,800, and are based on the deployment of a U. N. ground force of 93,000.

COST OF THIS major military operation would be $400 million.

A naval and air blockade of South Africa's 1,800-mile coastline over a six-month period would cost $165,672,000, according to the 200-page study. To do the job, between 50 and 60 warships, including three to five aircraft carriers, and 300 planes would be needed.

The report also carefully details the powerful South African force. It states the Verwoerd government could field a force of approximately 120,000 men; an air force of 146 fighter-bombers and 500 supporting aircraft; and a navy of 25 active vessels, including two 1,700-ton destroyers.

Bark Of Puppy, Brave Corporal Help Save Platoon In Viet Nam

LE MY, South Viet Nam (AP) — The warning bark of a puppy and the bravery of a corporal who kept firing after being wounded three times helped save a U.S. Marine platoon encircled by 50 Viet Cong.

The night action took place at a bridge less than half a mile south of here. This village has become the most contested ground in the Da Nang area. area.

IT HAS BEEN repeatedly cleared of the enemy, but they keep seeping back at night aboard river sampans.

"We had rebuilt two bridges they destroyed on our main supply road before we landed here," said Lt. Edward C. Riley, 23, Rochester, N.Y.

"We figured they'd try to hit the bridges again sooner or later, so we threw a defensive perimeter around them."

One bridge was guarded by a squad of 18 led by Sgt. Hilton O. Williams, 28, Greenville, Ala. It is a small, single-lane bridge only 20 feet long, but important beyond its size.

"That afternoon we picked up a small 7-week-old puppy and gave him some chow, and he stuck with us," said Sgt. Williams.

At 2:45 the next morning the puppy suddenly started growling.

"I HEARD something moving out there," said Lance Cpl. Curtis R. Jackson, 21, Pollock, Tex., a tall, lanky man known as "Big Foot" because of his trouble in getting boots large enough to fit him.

"In the darkness I saw what looked like a bush that hadn't been there before. I called for the password, and all at once the bush turned in to five men, and I started firing.

"And then there was firing from all sides. They had spent hours creeping up through the rice paddies, and they had us surrounded.

"They threw in a round of mortar, and then opened up with small arms and 30-caliber machine guns. Our men were all within 10 yards of our machine gun, and we fired back with everything we had.

What happened to Corporal Jackson was this:

BEFORE HE could even get fully to his feet, two bullets ripped through his thighs, a third through a calf muscle. But he straightened up and shot a Viet Cong poised 25 feet away to throw a grenade. The grenade fell harmlessly to the ground 10 feet from him.

"Actually, that saved his life," said his commander, Second Lt. Tim Schwartz, 22, Latrobe, Pa. "If the bullet hadn't hit his pistol, it would have gone through his chest."

But the embattled Texan yelled, "Throw me another rifle," then collapsed. During a lull he was evacuated by a helicopter which made a perilous landing guided only by four Marines holding flashlights.

THE ENEMY made two more fruitless attacks on the bridges before pulling out just before daybreak. A recapitulation showed that the Viet Cong had suffered 11 known dead and 15 wounded.

Jackson, who is in good shape in an Okinawa hospital, was credited with killing one and wounding two. He has been recommended for a medal. Sergeant Williams, the only other Marine casualty, suffered slight shrapnel wounds.

The Sad Case Of How Monte The Mouthpiece Lost His Job

THESE ARE parlous times and no man can be certain of the morrow. It's not only the atom bomb: A new invention may suddenly render you as jobless as Henry Ford left the village smithy. And even a a Supreme Court decision can send you to the scrap heap.

Take, to be specific, the traumatic experience of Monte the Mouthpiece as a direct result of a recent court ruling. One day he was in the upper brackets, and the next found him on Skid Row.

Perhaps I should start with something of his background. Even at high school, whence he was graduated as valedictorian, he proved he had what it takes. True, he was a plodder and rarely shone in daily class recitations; but, in the final written tests, he always emerged at the very top.

HIS FOLKS WERE far from wealthy—his father was the neighborhood locksmith — but Monte kept his end up. He eked out his slender allowance by selling advance copies of some of the test questions, which he had the ingenuity to take from the principal's cabinet by means of a duplicate key.

On the basis of his marks he received scholarship offers from all the best universities. Unfortunately, a schoolboy prank—he held up an elderly lady and borrowed her car for the evening—sent him to reform school.

At first his new fellow students hazed him and jeered him when they found out he had been christened Aloysius. But his astonishing proficiency at three-card monte won their admiration and gave him the sobriquet he carried from then on.

IT WAS THERE he decided, under the guidance of a kindly superintendent, to study law.

When he was graduated, he continued his studies, meanwhile earning some money by organizing, with the new friends he had found, a Protective Organization so that the neighborhood merchants, for a small monthly fee, would be protected from vandalism.

By the time Monte passed his bar exams and hung out his shingle his war on crime had already attracted the attention of the local mob, and he was placed on a retainer to take care of some of their legal work. He specialized in providing alibis for the members.

IN CASE AFTER case he victoriously defended men wrongfully accused, and the mob rewarded his virtue. He finally owned a piece of all their operations and not a move was made until Monte approved it. By this time he was happily married, had a daughter at Vassar and a son at Harvard and was noted as a heavy contributor to local charities.

It wasn't until Louis the Lump was caught with a truckload of heroin and shot while battling it out with a policeman that Monte ever dropped a decision. Louis lost his head, thinking he was dying, and confessed before Monte was notified and could arrive on the scene.

The circumstances did away with Monte's carefully prepared alibi, but he rose to the occasion by arguing Louis had come from a broken home, and he had pictures to prove how broken it was. But the confession apparently swayed the jury more, and Louis got 20 years to life.

THE DAY THE Supreme Court ruled that Louis had been unconstitutionally convicted because he hadn't been told that he was entitled to a lawyer and that anything he said might be used against him, Monte called a meeting of the executive board. "I told you I'd get Louis out," he boasted, "but, more important, this changes our strategy completely. From now on, whatever you do, I don't want to know anything about it. No more alibis. If you get caught, don't ask for me. Confess right away, don't give the cop a chance to tell you about your constitutional rights—and you're home free."

"Great!" said the boss. "Great! But in that case why do we need you? Gentlemen," he asked the boys, "what do you say we give Monte two months' severance pay and wish him well?"

AND THAT'S HOW come Monte is now getting unemployment relief. All on account of a bum rap by the Supreme Court.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning Star is Saturn. The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

John Wesley, the founder of Methodism, was born on this day in 1703.

On this day in history:

In 1928, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly across the Atlantic. The plane was piloted by Wilmer Stultz.

A thought for the day: British philosopher John Locke said: "The end of law is not to abolish or restrain, but to preserve and enlarge freedom."

Learn To Play Intelligently To Overcome Danger In Game

Maybe I shouldn't have brought the subject up, because it becomes obvious that some bridge players tackle a hand instinctively instead of intelligently.

South won the first club trick with the 10 and instinctively returned a trump. Thus instinct makes duffers of us all.

OTHER CLUB

East returned a club, of course, and West's ruff defeated the contract.

South should have taken measures against a ruff. A ruff would not hurt if West had started with A-4 or K-4 of trumps, and the bidding made it most unlikely that West had started with the singleton four.

BIG DANGER

The big danger was that West held all three trumps. South could do very little if West had led a singleton club.

There was still time to overcome the danger if West had started with two clubs.

MAY FAIL

If East's spades are headed by the king he may fail to step up, and then South will escape even if West's opening lead was a singleton club.

As the cards lie, the spade lead takes the entry out of East's hand before his partner is ready to ruff a club.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:

♥ 8 7 6 3 2
♦ K J 10
♣ Q J 7

What do you say:

Answer: Bid three hearts.

The jump raise after a takeout double shows good trump support with the values for an ordinary single raise.

Vipers Of Italy Still At Large

ROME (AP) — Many woodland sections of Italy are still infested by vipers, the poisonous snake whose bite sometimes causes death. Danger areas often are marked with signs put up by the state reading: "Danger: Zone infested by vipers."

Closure Of West Marin Court Urged

Storer said the closure could effect a saving of $10,000 to $12,000 a year for the county. He said the business handled by the court, now open one day a week, could be handled by one of the municipal courts in San Rafael with little strain.

He pointed out that closing the court would mean that its present judge, David R. Baty, would automatically become the next municipal court judge when a vacancy occurs.

Marine Biology Tours Planned

College of Marin's marine biology station in Bolinas will be open for tours from Monday to July 16, according to Dr. Roy G. Mikalson, dean of the college adult school.

The station will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. on weekdays and tours will be conducted at 1 and 3 p.m. by David Seielstad, a marine biology major. Arrangements for tours may be made with Mikalson 10 days in advance.

Student Attends Aquatic School

A San Rafael sophomore at Sonoma State College is attending the national aquatic school in Rathrum, Ida., this week on scholarships from two Petaluma civic groups.

Van Tribble is taking special training in teaching boating, canoeing and first aid. Petaluma chapter of the American Red Cross and Petaluma Rotary Club as paying for the training.

Study Ordered On Operation Of Court

Operation of the Municipal Court will be analyzed by the Marin County administrator's office with the hope of increasing efficiency.

This was decided by the Marin County Board of Supervisors during budget review yesterday.

It resulted from a request by the judges for secretarial help. The judges, represented by Judge Leonard A. Thomas, asked for an additional $9,000 in the 1966 fiscal year budget to hire either one fulltime secretary or two or three part-time secretaries at their own discretion.

Judge Thomas said the judges wanted discretion because it was not certain what arrangements would be made.

The board adopted a $316,408 budget for operation of Municipal Court. Current budget is $288,936. Major part of the increase was addition of four more clerks to bring the total staff to 34.

County Tops Cancer Goal

Marin County topped its $38,050 goal in the annual Cancer Crusade by $369, chairman Jordan Martinelli Jr. has announced.

He noted, however, that it was still too early to tell exactly how much was raised during the 1965 crusade. So far $38,419.31 has been counted, but all contributions received through Aug. 31, end of the American Cancer Society's fiscal year, will be credited to the campaign.

Sixty per cent of all funds raised by the Marin County branch of the society remain in California for state and local use as needed, Martinelli said. The remaining 40 per cent goes to the national society, which sponsors a program of research.
